AIRPLANES GET OFF TODAY ON TRANSPACIFIC RACE

Fire Razes Buildings Of Victoria Golf Club In Presence of Crowd

Five Thousand People Witness Blaze That Threatens Houses on Waterfront—Dry Weather and Low Water Pressure Make Fire Hard One to Fight—Reflection Seen in City

Damage Is Estimated at $25,000; Furnishings and Golf Sets Lost

THE Victoria Golf Club's new clubhouse, with what remained of the old one, was destroyed by fire last night. Damage is estimated at $25,000. The buildings and furnishings were covered by insurance. Over 5,000 people saw the blaze.

The fire was first noticed about 7:20 o'clock. Mrs. M. Morgan, a waitress at the clubhouse, saw the smoke and flames coming from the windows of the ladies' room. She immediately put in the fire call. A Chinaman on the staff also noticed the smoke and telephoned to Captain J. V. Perks, secretary of the club, who, in turn, put another call in to the fire department. Mr. Jack Exton and Mr. Robert Pugh, who also work at the club, noticed the smoke coming from the direction of the ladies' rooms. What started the fire is not known.

The fire department received the first call at 7:30 o'clock and immediately dispatched the truck from the Duchess Street fire hall. At 7:40 o'clock a second call came in for the pump truck, which was sent out to the scene to boost the water pressure.

PRESURE LOW

Due to the low pressure and the tinder-like wood, caused by the dry weather of the last two weeks, it did not take many minutes for the flames to spread. They soon enveloped the old club house and leaped to the new structure. The flames shot 100 feet into the air. Large, flaming cinders were blown toward the homes on the waterfront, while myriads of sparks were carried along in the breeze, setting fire to the grass and nearby trees.

A gang of men had to work on the waterfront homes to moisten the roofs so that they would not catch fire.

When the pumping truck arrived a steady stream of water was played on the new structure, the old building having already been demolished.

GOLF SETS LOST

Efforts were made to save as many of the golf sets as possible. The twelve or fourteen sets that were saved all belonged to visitors who had come to this city to attend the Senior's Northwest Golf Tournament at Colwood. Mr. Phillip Taylor, the professional at Oak Bay, lost practically all of his equipment, which was covered by insurance.

The flames shooting skyward cast a reflection that could be seen in the city. In a short space of time the greens surrounding the club house were thronged with people. It is estimated that there were over 5,000 people present. Beach Drive, in the vicinity of the club, was congested with automobile traffic.

Some $3,500 worth of insurance was carried on the old club house, while the new structure was insured up to its stage of construction. The value of the building at the time of the fire is estimated at $16,000. It was to have been ready for the member's use in four week's time. Williams, Trerise and Williams are the contractors.

Mr. R.C. Morgan Retires

WINNIPEG, Aug. 15.—The retirement of Mr. R. C. Morgan, superintendent of terminals, Canadian Pacific Railway here, on account of ill health, was announced today.

Kansas Farmers Are Flooded Out For Second Time

SALINA, Kas., Aug. 15.—Scores of families in the west and northwest portions of Salina were forced from their homes today when water from Dry Creek backed up into the districts and developed one of the worst flood situations since 1903.

A break in a dyke south of the town sent the water rushing down the stream and a stretch a mile long and several blocks wide was flooded. Houses in the district were being damaged considerably. Just above Salina, Dry Creek was receding.

Large stretches of farm land south of Salina were being flooded by Smokey Hill River, for the second time this year.

TRANSATLANTIC FLYERS STAYED

COLUMBIA'S PROPELLER DAMAGED—COURTNEY'S WHALE SPRINGS LEAK

German Aviators Attempting Westward Flight Are Driven Back by Storm and Fog

PARIS, Aug. 15.—Damage to the propeller of the Columbia, placing the Bellanco monoplane out of commission for a day or two, and announcement of Leonard Givon and Lieutenant Dieudonne Coate that they were determined to wait for reassuring weather reports, left Little prospect of any transatlantic flight from France before the middle of the week. The Columbia's propeller will be detached tomorrow and sent to a French builder to be straightened, after which Maurice Drouhin, Levine's pilot, will make another test flight. Aviation experts said the plane will be ready as soon as the weather is favorable.

SOUTHAMPTON, England, Aug. 15.—A further postponement of Captain F. T. Courtney's projected transatlantic flight until Tuesday, and possibly Wednesday, was announced last night as the result of the discovery of a leak in the hull of the flying boat "Whale."

GERMAN ATTEMPT

DESSAU, Germany, Aug. 15.—The four German airmen who hopped off from Dessau late yesterday afternoon in an attempt to achieve first honors for a westward air passage, tonight were back at their starting point, after defying storm and lightning in a heroic effort to reach their goal.

The pilots, Herman Koehle and Freidrich Loose, after a nerve-wracking twenty-two-hour battle with storm and fog which carried them beyond the west coast of Ireland, dropped in on Dessau in their monoplane Bremen almost unobserved, at a time when hope was still high that they were speeding across the Atlantic to the American coast.

At almost the same hour, their flying comrades, Cornelius Edsard and Johann Risticz of the monoplane Europa, which only recently shattered the endurance flight record, arrived at Dessau from Bremen, where they had been forced to land late last night after a losing fight of nearly five hours with North Sea storms and fogs.

The Bremen landed at Dessau at 4:20 o'clock this afternoon. The descent was made successfully and without damage to the plane, and the plane was returned to the Junkers airdrome intact. Her sister plane, the Europa, which was forced to land at Bremen, however, was not so fortunate in her descent last night, the under carriage and propeller being damaged when the tail of the machine went into a ditch.

LONDON, Aug. 15.—Reuter's Berlin correspondent quotes the Junkers firm as saying that the attempt to fly to America will be repeated as soon as the weather improves.

CYCLONE HITS FLORIDA TOWN

BRICK BUILDING DEMOLISHED —OTHER BUILDINGS BLOWN DOWN

One Man Killed and Others Injured—Meagre Reports Received—Wires Not Working

TALLAHASSEE, Fla., Aug. 15.—A Negro was killed and several persons injured when wind of cyclonic proportions struck Carabelle, Fla., late today, according to advices received here. Meagre reports received by the local office of the Western Union Telegraph Company and the Seaboard Airline Railway were that the high winds demolished a brick building in the centre of the town, and that several other buildings were blown down.

Communication with Carabelle was broken at about 3 o'clock. Carabelle, a fishing town of some 1,500 persons, is located in Franklyn county, near the mouth of New River. At Panacea, a resort about twenty-five miles north of Carabelle, nothing of the storm had been heard.

FINANCING OF WOOLEN MILL IS DISCUSSED

Citizens' Committee to Be Appointed by Mayor and Alderman Holmes to Raise $210,000

BUSINESS MEN MEET TO ADVISE COUNCIL

Mr. J. Moore, of Bradford, Will Subscribe $40,000 —Makes Investigation of Market and Conditions

A CITIZENS' committee will be appointed by Mayor J. Carl Pendray, in conjunction with Alderman Holmes, chairman of the industrial committee of the City Council, to discuss financing the proposed worsted mill and to open a subscription list.

This decision was come to after the industrial committee, in conference with leading business men of this city, went over the details of the projected industry. Among those present were: Messrs. Mark Graham, James Fletcher, S. J. Halls, Charles E. Brown, Harry Boorman, Dr. Warnock, Joseph Patrick, John Dean, R. H. B. Ker, Norman Fynn, Mayor Pendray, Alderman Holmes, Alderman Mara, Alderman P. R. Brown, Alderman Woodward, Alderman Harvey, Alderman Clearihue and Alderman Dewar.

Alderman Holmes, in introducing the subject, stated that $40,000,000 was invested in the textile business in Canada and all of this was in Eastern Canada. There were no worsted mills west of Ontario, so that a local industry would have the vast market of British Columbia and the three Prairie Provinces.

Mr. Moore had been induced by the City Council to come to this city from Bradford, England, to look over the field and see if a worsted mill was feasible. He came with an open mind and after a short study of the conditions here said in an address before business men of this city, at a meeting held in the council chamber, that the local demand was large enough for one economic unit.

On his way back he made a further study of the situation. He found that one department store in this city alone sold 150,000 pounds

CHURCHILL SITE NOT ON MARKET

GOVERNMENT TAKES STEPS TO EXPROPRIATE ALL PRIVATELY-OWNED LAND

Announcement Made That There Will Be No Lots for Sale in Near Future

WINNIPEG, Aug. 15.—Land speculators who may hope to engage in the purchase and sale of town lots at Fort Churchill, selected as the terminus of the Hudson Bay Railway, will not realize their ambitions. Strict precautions have been taken by the Federal Government to guard against such a possibility. "I wish to warn all prospective purchasers," stated Major Graham Bell, Deputy Minister of Railways at Ottawa, "that there is no land or town lots for sale in the vicinity of the proposed harbor site at Churchill."

Following the announcement that immediate measures were being taken to complete the Hudson Bay Railway and Fort Churchill terminal, Major Graham Bell was asked by the Canadian Press to explain the policy of the Government in connection with the utilization of the townsite on or adjacent to the land required to the building of the port.

EXPROPRIATION

"The townsite at Fort Churchill was laid out many years ago on part of the site required for the purpose of the terminal," said Major Bell today, "but to meet this situation our legal and right-of-way department in Ottawa immediately consulted with the Department of Justice, and decided that Colonel R. H. Fraser, righ-of-way and lease agent of the department, and Major P. M. Anderson, representing the legal department, should proceed to Winnipeg for the purpose of filing expropriation plans covering the whole of the eastern peninsula at Churchill. On their arrival in this city a consultation was held with local counsel, following which Major Anderson left for Neepawa, Man., the seat of registration of the division involved and filed the necessary plans and descriptions."

LEADERSHIP CANDIDATES ENUMERATED

Not More Than Seven or Eight Nominees Will Be in Running at Conservative National Convention

MAY TAKE VOTE AT END OF SESSIONS

General McRae Not Candidate—Leader, He Says, Should Have Parliamentary Experience

OTTAWA, Ont., Aug. 15.—Major-General A. D. McRae has so far met with very gratifying success in the organization of the National Conservative Convention to be held in Winnipeg October 11. General McRae, in undertaking this work, did so at the unanimous desire of the convention committee. Recently there have been appearing press statements connecting his name with the leadership, for which he is not a candidate, nor has any intention of being so. In refuting this rumor, General McRae said:

"My one year's parliamentary experience has been sufficient to convince me that a man to successfully lead the Conservative Party must have had considerable parliamentary experience. This experience I do not possess and I am not a candidate for the leadership."

NOMINATIONS FOR LEADER

At the convention many names will be put forward for the leadership, in many instances to give an opportunity for representatives from the Provinces to express their opinions on this question and on policy, although they are not candidates. It is believed that the following names will be put in nomination:

Prince Edward Island—Hon. P. M. Stewart.

Nova Scotia—Hon. E. N. Rhodes and Hon. Gordon Harrington.

New Brunswick—Hon. J. B. M. Baxter.

Quebec—Sir George Perley, Hon. E. L. Patenaude, C. H. Cahan and J. L. Saint Jacques.

William Faulis was blown through a wall of the building. Joe Reid, L. Edmiston and Van Osborne were found unconscious in the burning structure by firemen. Edmiston was the only one for whom physicians held out any hope.

RAILWAYS ISSUE REPORT ON CROP

HARVEST LIKELY TO BE GENERAL IN ALL PRAIRIE DISTRICTS IN TWO WEEKS

Great Crop in Alberta—Good in Saskatchewan—Fair Outlook in Manitoba

WINNIPEG, Aug. 15.—Granted fine weather, the crop in Alberta will prove an extraordinary one, according to Canadian Pacific Railway Agricultural Department.

All crops are maturing rapidly. Wheat cutting began in Manitoba and Saskatchewan, Garnet and other early varieties, but will not become general until the last week of the month.

Rain would be beneficial in Manitoba, and is forecast. Rust infection has spread and will undoubtedly reduce in quantity and quality the expected yields, apart from Western and Northwestern parts of the Province which thus far show but primary infection. Red rust on oats is fairly widespread, and development depends upon weather conditions.

It is now determined that frost of last week has detrimentally affected grain yields and quality in some parts of the Province of Saskatchewan. This condition, how-

Race Starts Today Over Two-Thousand-Mile Run Across Pacific to Hawaii

Air Jockeys Ready With Flying Steeds—Seventeen Men and One Woman to Take Flight—Distance 2,400 Miles—Time Expected to Be About Twenty-Two Hours—Purse $35,000

Starting Field Rolled and Rerolled To Afford Contestants Good Getaway

MUNICIPAL AIRPORT, Oakland, Aug. 15.—Through ribbons of dust a half-mile long and the deafening roar of motors set for the 2,400-mile $35,000 prize Dole Derby, which goes to the post at noon tomorrow, pilots, navigators and backers, today elbowed their course through supply wagons, mechanics, and motor experts grooming their mounts for the first air race in history.

The air lanes surrounding the starting point of the unprecedented classic were crowded with aircraft taking last minute workouts to make certain no details had been overlooked to guarantee perfect performance tomorrow. Roped off from the airway were thousands who viewed the preparations with interest. Tonight the monoplane Oklahoma, which will have a lead in the getaway variously estimated at between five and twenty-five minutes, was nosed to the spot where it will start winging its way to Honolulu tomorrow. The field was rolled and rerolled tonight to make certain of smooth surface when the racers start on the most hazardous part of the whole cruise—the take-off. Every bumpy spot in the 7,215-foot runway was rolled to make certain that small obstructions were removed.

EIGHTEEN ON PLANES

MUNICIPAL AIRPORT, Aug. 15.—Seventeen men and one woman, Miss Mildred Doran, a Michigan school teacher, who quit the classroom to fly to Honolulu, expect to race out of Oakland airport tomorrow afternoon and cruise over the Pacific for approximately twenty-two hours over a 2,400-mile course to Oahu, principal island in Hawaii, for the $35,000 in prizes offered by James Dole, of Honolulu. The winner of the race will receive $25,000, and the second finisher, $10,000.

The last qualifier, Captain William P. Irwin, Texas, distinguished war ace, passed the navigation test at 2:35 p.m. today, gaining the last place in the starting line.

Torrential Rains Cause Land Slides In Great Britain

LONDON, Aug. 15.—The British Isles suffered last night and today from torrential rains which caused considerable damage in many districts. Land slides occurred near Appleby, blocking rail traffic. Several regattas were abandoned because of the gale and high seas. It was estimated that 20,000,000 tons of water fell over the greater London area in an incessant downpour from noon on. The storm was moving slowly across the North Sea, accompanied by an unusually low Summer temperature.

ADVERTISING EXPERT HERE

Does Not Fear the Radio as Permanent Competitor of Newspaper

That the public demands from a newspaper more careful inspection and vigilance over its advertising columns, and that the advertiser should show greater attention to truthfulness in his space to assure that the consumer is securing an absolutely square deal, are tendencies of modern advertising thought expressed by Mr. Homer Buckley, president of Buckley, Dement & Company, advertising agents, Chicago, who is in the city.

Mr. Buckley traveled West especially to address the National Association of Real Estate Boards' Convention in Seattle, and came on from Seattle here. He is president of the Chicago Advertising Club, an organization of 1,800 executives of advertising organizations, the second largest in the United States. He is also chairman of the legislative committee of the International Advertising Clubs and a member of its advisory commission.

Mr. Buckley pointed out that while the public was expecting from the newspapers better service, the newspapers were forced to a higher cost of production, and the agate lineage rate was going to be advanced inevitably. Advertising would be more intensive and localized in the future. He felt that the national advertiser would have to back up the dealer better, the manufacturer would have to look upon the retailer as a partner in his enterprise than merely as a distributor. He pointed out also how large a share of the aggregate annual expenditure on advertising went to newspapers as the best medium of publicity.

Mr. Buckley is not one of those who fears the competition of the radio as an attempt to substitute for the efficient publicity of newspapers. He asserted to The Colonist that if too much advertising was given over the radio the public would sour on it. Such advertising, to be put over at all, had to be done subtly, and he did not think it would sell goods, because the radio could not get down to details of sale of products. Mr. Buckley said he did not think a radio audience would stand for too much advertising, nor would it become permanent as a competitor of the columns of the newspaper.

He is delighted with Victoria, it being his first visit, his opinion being based on a long drive with Mr. Alfred Carmichael as host during the day. He warmly commended the trend of opinion here towards industrial development.

Engineers Chosen For Langley Dyke

MURRAYVILLE, B. C., Aug. 15.—The Langley Municipal Council decided to place Mr. A. S. Duckritt, New Westminster, in charge of the initial preparation of estimates and plans for the proposed dyking of the Salmon River flats at Fort Langley, with Mr. W. H. Cotton acting as his assistant.

The dyke would protect about 600 acres, which are now flooded annually.

FOREST FIRES UNDER CONTROL

OUTBREAKS CONFINED AT COWICHAN LAKE AND HARRISON LAKE

Humidity Readings Drop to Low Points and Hazard Increases—All Fires Held

VANCOUVER, Aug. 15.—A 200-acre blaze on Maurelle Island, near Powell River, and six small outbreaks near Vancouver, reported to the Provincial Forestry Department here today, showed that the forest fire situation in Southwestern British Columbia has become hazardous again despite rainfall last week. At Maurelle Island, forty miles north of Powell River, the blaze is reported to have caught in logging slash on the east side. The crew of rangers on the scene stated they hoped to have the fire controlled by today.

SUBURBAN BLAZES

Two bush fires on the north shore of Burrard Inlet were caught in their early stages this afternoon. The glowing cigarette thrown by a careless smoker into the dry bush beside the Marine Drive near Capilano Creek, caused one outbreak, and the other, believed to have caught under similar circumstances, started at noon on a vacant lot in West Vancouver. Both were extinguished by rangers before they could spread.

Two new lightning fires on Upper Pitt River, and an outbreak at Mile 21, Hope-Princeton Trail, were reported Monday. The former are reported small and under control, while the latter is being investigated by rangers.

COAST AND ISLAND

A bush fire on Gabriola Island was confined to three acres by rangers and extinguished Sunday.

Favorable reports regarding forest fires have been received. The 4,000-acre blaze on Ryan Creek, Lillooet River district, has been confined to high altitudes, in places over 4,000 feet.

over 4,000 feet and is said to have consumed but little merchantable timber on the low sections.

Fires at Cowichan Lake, V.I., Harrison Lake and Jervis Inlet, while covering over 3,000 acres in all, are reported confined and are being slowly extinguished by rangers and logging crews.

Humidity readings dropped to record low points in the district today, according to forestry officials. Registration at Thurston Bay was 27, at Myrtle Point 15 and at Nanaimo 32.

night at Government House, and on Wednesday morning leave for Pictou on board H.M.S. Capetown.

During today's stop at Ottawa, the Governor-General and Lady Willingdon were at the station to greet the Premier and Mrs. Baldwin, and there was a short drive about the capital by way of relaxation. While in his car in Ottawa, Mr. Baldwin signed the famous Queen Anne Bible, which is the property of the Six Nations Indians of Brantford. The page bears the signature of the Prince of Wales, His Majesty the King, and the late King Edward, and in the volume are the signatures of all the Governors-General of Canada. The Bible originally was presented to the Six Nations by Queen Anne in 1712.

TWO PREMIERS IN PARTY

The signing of the Bible finished, Mr. and Mrs. Baldwin accompanied by Viscount and Lady Willingdon, and other members of the party, passed through the station to the automobiles. Gathered in the station was a crowd which cheered the British statesman as he passed. On their return a short time later, Mr. and Mrs. Baldwin boarded the train. Premier King and Colonel Ralston, Minister of National Defence, will accompany them on the remainder of their journey through Canada.

OKANAGAN INQUIRY CONTINUES AT VERNON—OFFICIAL ON STAND

Trustees of Irrigation District Submit Plan of Financing for Water Supply

VERNON, B.C., Aug. 15.—Chief interest in an all-day session before Commissioner Mr. W. G. Swan, who is inquiring into Okanagan irrigation problems, came late this afternoon when Mr. M. S. Middleton, provincial horticulturist, was on the stand, and when the subject of tobacco culture was introduced by Mr. George Heggie, manager of the L. and A. Ranch at Swan Lake.

Questioned regarding yields per acre and desirable varieties, Mr. Middleton said that Mr. E. R. Smith, over a five-year period, had a yield averaging 700 boxes per acre, and he believed that the figures for 1926 were 1,100 boxes. In many orchards the yield was about 200. These two-hundred-box orchards could not survive, and the pity of it was that many of the owners, who know their present varieties are unsuitable, cannot afford to wait eight years for new trees to come into bearing. The steps that have been taken to interest the growers in cutting out undesirable varieties were explained.

PLAN SUBMITTED

The tentative scheme of relief submitted by the trustees of the Vernon Irrigation District at the first sitting before Mr. Swan on irrigation matters was withdrawn this morning and another submitted.

The proposals now advanced are:

(a) Cancellation of all interest to date.

(b) Remission of interest on past and prospective loans for permanent structures for a period of ten years.

(c) Postponement of demand for repayment of principal on permanent structures, until the industry is on its feet.

In explanation of (a) indebtedness to the Government is given as $919,812, including $205,655 of moratorium interest. The reason given for the remission of interest on past and prospective loans for permanent structures (b) is that the trustees are of the opinion that ten years will be required to rehabilitate the better lands by replanting, and this relief would enable owners to make these replacements and other necessary improvements.

(c) Postponement of repayment of principal on permanent works.

FINANCING OF WOLLEN MILL IS DISCUSSED

of yarn a year, while a factory in Vancouver used 125,000 pounds of yarn, another between 25,000 and 40,000 pounds. This alone provided more than the minimum market required to support the worsted mill proposed for this city. This did not include other markets in British Columbia and the markets of the Prairie Provinces.

WORKERS AVAILABLE

Mr. Moore then studied the manufacturing conditions. The quality of workers here was excellent, while the quantity, needless to say, was also here. The one big drawback he found was that the minimum wage for girls here was double that of the girls working in Bradford. Studying every detail, however, Mr. Moore found that yarn could be produced here at a much lower cost than to import the United Kingdom product, and allow a profit of fifteen cents a pound even in competition with the Old Country.

Alderman Holmes then went on to give the estimated profit as supplied by Mr. Moore after his investigation. On the basis of 300,000 pounds production a year, a conservative estimate, as a market existed for several times that amount, the profits would amount to $22,500 per annum. This profit could be more than doubled, was Alderman Holmes' opinion.

The building would cost $45,000, machinery $105,000 and working capital $100,000, making the total subscription $250,000. Deducting Mr. Moore's subscription of $40,000 from this total, it left $210,000 to be raised in Victoria.

"I have shown that the market exists, that conditions are good and profits assured. I will now ask you to advise us, to assist us in raising the capital necessary to start the industry," Alderman Holmes concluded.

EXPLAINS PROPOSAL

Mr. Mark Graham then asked if Mr. Moore would be selling his machinery in his Bradford plant to the local company, and whether he would subscribe $40,000.

Alderman Holmes explained that the cost of the machinery delivered here would be $105,000. The actual cost was $80,000. From this total Mr. Moore was to return $40,000 to the company.

Asked what his opinion was on the matter, Mr. Boorman said it was a pretty hard proposition to raise $210,000 in Victoria. It was very problematical as to what the first year's operation of the mill would be. This industry came as the last recommended from the city. To all others the city had given some kind of guarantee, and he could not see why similar methods should not be adopted with the worsted mill.

Asked what he thought of Mr. Moore, Mr. Boorman said he had found him a man who knew his business and that he would be quite prepared to put his own money in with Mr. Moore. "Any man would have a good run for his money with a man like Mr. Moore," Mr. Boorman stated.

The speaker expressed the opinion, however, that if the city guaranteed half the necessary amount it would not be difficult to raise the other $100,000 by public subscription.

Alderman Woodward explained why the city had not guaranteed bonds or put up the money itself. A line had to be drawn somewhere in the guaranteeing of bonds, he stated.

Mr. John Dean pointed out to the committee that a group of English manufacturers were starting a woolen mill in Vancouver and that machinery for this was already being sent for and a building secured. Mr. Moore had sent one loom for the mill, he stated.

This fact alone should be an inducement to Victorians to establish a worsted mill here, as the woolen mill would certainly require yarn for the manufacturing of its clothes. Another point he stressed was the fact that this group evidently considered Western Canada an excellent market for woolen goods. He felt, however, that this industry should have been put through "via the by-law route."

Mr. Dean said he was prepared to invest $1,500 in the venture, while Hon. F. A. Pauline, Agent-General for British Columbia in London, had stated he was ready to invest $1,000 in the industry.

Alderman Clearihue, in urging that a citizens' committee be appointed to help subscribe the capital, said: "We ought to get the worsted mill here. Before we put a by-law we want to at least try to subscribe as much of the necessary capital as possible. If the total could not be raised then the city would be in a position where it would be approached by a nucleus of local capitalists for aid. The by-law could then be put to raise the remainder if necessary."

The resolution was then placed before the meeting and carried unanimously.

PROTECT LITTLE CHILDREN WITH FLY-TOX

Babies must be protected from flies. Besides their torment and torture, flies transmit over thirty different diseases. Any one of which may prove fatal. Every fly you see must be killed. LEADERSHIP CANDIDATES ENUMERATED

ACTUAL CANDIDATES

It is doubtful if more than seven or eight at the most will be candidates for the leadership. Despite Premier Ferguson's reiterated desire to remain in the Provincial field, his many supporters are still hopeful that he may yet be induced to consider the position. Among others whose names are prominently mentioned are the Hon. Hugh Guthrie and the Hon. R. J. Manion. Sir Henry Drayton, former Minister of Finance, has a strong support for the leadership both in Ontario and other Provinces. T. H. Cahan, M.P., St. Lawrence and St. George, Montreal, will be a candidate for the leadership and will receive strong support from Quebec.

The Hon. Robert Rogers, it is understood, will also be a contestant. In the event of Premier Ferguson refusing to be a candidate, it is believed the Hon. R. B. Bennett, former Minister of Finance, will accede to the request of his supporters and permit his name to go before the convention. The Hon. H. H. Stevens, Vancouver, former Minister of Customs and Excise, has also a strong support.

FROM PROVINCES

If the convention decides to seek a leader outside of the Federal field, there are three young Conservatives, who in point of ability and experience are available. Of those, the Hon. Gordon Harrington, Minister of Mines, Nova Scotia, is the most prominent. Another is J. T. Haig, M.L.A., who so successfully led the Conservative ticket in Winnipeg in the recent Manitoba election; another is M. A. Macpherson, M.L.A., Regina, who won such a remarkable victory at the last Provincial election in Saskatchewan. Major Macpherson is a Nova Scotian and, like Colonel Harrington, has a brilliant war record.

It is not expected that there will be any definite trend of sentiment for any particular candidate for the leadership until the representatives of the party convenes in Winnipeg on October 11. So far there is not a single instance where delegates have been instructed to support any particular person for the leadership and it is not expected that there will be any instructed delegates present. This makes for considerable uncertainty as to the choice of the convention.

COURSE SUGGESTED

In the list of those who have been nominated for the leadership are many in the Conservative Party who are unable to enter Federal politics, but the opportunity afforded them to address the convention will, it is expected, be accepted by them to express views on particular issues and on the future policy of the party, in addition to those who may address the convention in this way, it is understood that other prominent Conservatives will be asked to express their views to the assembled representatives on particular national issues.

It has been suggested that nominations for the leadership be made the first day of the convention, but that the decision should not be made until the last day. The intervening period will give the delegates an opportunity to consider the merits of the various candidates. In the meantime the delegates will have heard the candidates for leadership, in addition to others who occupy prominent places in the party, and whose experience will add weight to their opinion and advice.

ever applies only to scattered areas. Fall rye cutting and threshing is general and in some cases completed. Wheat cutting will begin in a small way this week and become general about the twenty-fifth.

Weather conditions in Alberta are favorable for filling and ripening, cutting of Winter wheat, barley and earlier varieties. Spring wheat has commenced in various sections. Harvesting of all crops should become fairly general within the next two weeks, with the promise under favorable conditions of a volume exceeding any previous year.

In British Columbia weather is favorable with ample moisture. Apple and pear crop will approximate eighty per cent of last year, but will exceed an average year. Earlier varieties of tree fruits and potatoes and tomatoes are now moving in carloads. General situation is satisfactory.

C.N.R. REPORT

WINNIPEG, Aug. 15.—The sound of the thresher has already been heard on the Prairies. According to the Canadian National Railways' weekly crop report the optimism of the West for this year's crop is standing up well, and the farmers, except in a few low-lying areas, are confident of a yield as good as any, indeed much better than previous years. Frost has stepped in, but has not caused consternation. Porter, Dodsland, Asquith and Elrose, Saskatchewan, have felt it worst than other points. Rust is troubling some farmers in Manitoba and weeds are the concern of a few in Alberta, but these are isolated instances. The majority of acreages are healthy and standing up well, ripening rapidly and hardening.

Central Manitoba's chief want at present is more moisture but, in spite of lack of rain, progress has been satisfactory. Alberta reports her pastures to be in splendid condition.

Judges' Award To Pipe Band Is Challenged

The pipe band contest at the Caledonian sports on Saturday in Vancouver, in which the Canadian Scottish Junior Pipe Band was awarded second place, is to be the subject of protest.

Representatives of the local band last evening mailed a formal protest to the secretary, alleging that the winning band had fourteen pipers competing, while the regulations limit the number to twelve, the rule saying: "Band to be composed of not less than eight and not more than twelve pipers." The letter says the protest is lodged not on the question of merit, but for violation of the regulations.

The council of the association promoting the sports (The St. Andrew's and Caledonian Society) will be asked to set aside the ruling of the judges, and declare the winners disqualified. Meanwhile the officials of the Canadian Scottish Junior Pipe Band have refused to accept the medals for second place.

SCHOOL OF ART IS IN NEW BUILDING

Art students and others will be interested in the removal of the Victoria School of Art, of which Mrs. D. D. Uhthoff, Dip. G.S.A., Scotland, is the principal, to the building formerly occupied by Rocklands Academy (Sprott-Shaw School), between Craigdarroch and Rockland Avenue.

The new building offers numerous advantages which should assist Mrs. Uhthoff to make an even greater success of a school which is already doing remarkably good work. There is vastly better accommodation than the former studio possessed, and the surroundings are beautiful. Under the improved conditions everything will be on a larger scale, and the principal is receiving very encouraging support on all sides. The Hon. W. C. Nichol, LL.D.; the Island Arts and Craft Society; Mr. Lindley Crease, K.C.; Mr. Sam MacClure; Mrs. Hebden Gillespie, and others, have extended their patronage. Among those who are giving prizes and medals, to be competed for in the different sections of the school, are Miss Kathleen Agnew, who has donated an assisted scholarship; and Mrs. Lawrence Adamson, Madame Sanderson-Mongin, Mr. C. C. Fuller, Mrs. Hebden Gillespie, Mrs. Tilton, and others.

This year Mrs. Uhthoff will open a full diploma course in addition to the part-time classes. There will be life classes, rooms for design, commercial art, modelling, animal drawing, and a technical studio for etching block printing and applied arts. Interior decoration will form a course by itself.

The school will open in September.

Archibald Lang To Face Court Today

Charged with supplying liquor to a minor, Archibald Lang will be arraigned in the police court today. The case was called yesterday when Mr. J. S. Brandon, counsel for the accused, entered a plea of not guilty.

The case is one that arises out of the incidents preceding the fatal automobile drive when Miss Jean Coddington met her death on Rockland Avenue on July 25 and which was followed by the charging of W. Fraser Tolmie with manslaughter.

The allegation is that Lang supplied Miss Dorothy Officer, who is under the age of twenty-one, with a drink of gin during the early morning of July 25. By the consent of counsel today was fixed for the hearing of evidence in the case.

Assault Charges

Bert Warren and John Pierce, who pleaded not guilty to charges of assaulting Robert Goldie, were found guilty by Police Magistrate Jay in the city police court yesterday. Warren was sentenced to one month for his part in the assault, while Pierce was allowed off with a fine of $20, or in default one month in jail. The former was also charged with obtaining liquor from other than an authorized vendor, and one pleading guilty was fined $50, or in default a term in jail.

Pile Sufferers

Can You Answer These Questions?

Do you know why ointments do not give you quick and lasting relief?

Why cutting often fails?

Do you know the cause of piles is internal?

That there is a stagnation of blood circulation in the lower bowel?

Do you know that there is a harmless internal remedy discovered by Dr Leonhardt and known as HEM-ROID, now sold by Vancouver Drug Co., MacFarlane Drug Co., and druggists everywhere, that is guaranteed?

HEM-ROID banishes piles by removing the cause by freeing blood circulation in the lower bowel. This simple home treatment has an almost unbelievable record for sure, quick and lasting relief to thousands of pile sick sufferers, and saves the needless pain and expense of an operation. There is no reason why it should not do the same for you. (Advt.)

EAGLES' PICNIC POPULAR EVENT

COLONEL SICKLES SPEAKS TO LODGE

The Fraternal Order of Eagles' annual basket picnic, held on Sunday at the Elk Lake Athletic Grounds, proved to be one of the most popular events ever staged by the lodge, more than 450 being present. Seven tallyhos and numerous private cars conveyed the throng from the city to the shores of the popular lake, where a programme including twenty-five land sports and four in the water were enjoyed.

The Eagles' Drum Corps rendered selections during the afternoon, and all children were kept well supplied with ice cream and candy. All those up to twelve years of age participating in the sports were given special prizes, besides the regular ones.

Colonel Sickles, of the Washington State organization department, was present for the occasion and gave an address on "Eagledom," the ideals of the lodge, which is now 750,000 strong, and the duties of its members. He also touched on the subject of old age pensions. Several other American Eagles were at the picnic.

DIVING IS GOOD

The water sports drew considerable attention, the men's swimming races furnishing some particularly close finishes. The fancy diving competitions were voted by onlookers the best they had ever seen, practically every type of dive being in the repertoire of the aquatic stars. Before the sports commenced one of the largest pairs of water wings to float on Elk Lake appeared under the arms of a youthful swimmer. Whether he was an Eagle is not known; however, the four-foot wings suddenly collapsed and the swimmer inhaled large quantities of lake water, to the mirth of those on shore. A log-rolling contest, not on the programme, between six boys on a hollowed-out cedar log, lasted until one by one they were precipitated into the cooling waters.

A LIVELY CONTEST

In a lively tug-of-war, the single ladies held their own against their married sisters and were finally victorious, also winning a challenge match shortly after. After three strenuous pulls the single men gained a decision with the rope over the married men, who put up a very hard fight.

Prizes given ranged from a ton of coal, groceries and shoes for the ladies, to sporting goods for the boys.

Following the completion of the sports and a hearty meal, a corps of small boys scoured the grounds for paper and rubbish, taking their payment in ice cream. At 7:30 o'clock the tired but happy picnickers packed up and journeyed homeward.

The committee responsible for the success of the affair were Messrs. Charles Jasper, Dr. Clarke, L. McDonald, J. Bellanger, W. Levy, and others.

SINGULAR DEATH

VERNON, B.C., Aug. 15.—A verdict of accidental death, caused by carelessness in not properly fastening the seat to the body of the truck, was returned by the coroner's jury which inquired into the death of Ivy Brinkman, ten-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Brinkman, Okanagan Centre. The jury added a rider, asking that the attention of the Attorney-General be directed to the advisability of legislation being enacted that seats properly fastened must be provided for persons riding on trucks.

Dr. O. Morris, coroner, conducted the inquiry. Returning to their homes from Vernon on Friday night, the Brinkman family had a terrible experience. The father, mother and Ivy rode on a seat partly tied on with rope against the rear of the cab. Mrs. Brinkman became ill, and leaning over the side of the truck, caused the seat to fly up.

Little Ivy, sleeping on the other side, was catapulted with such force that her skull was fractured by a rocky cliff alongside the road. The father and mother, thrown off, sustained injuries to their heads and faces. The child was dead when picked up.

One of the many Victoria residents endorsing Husky after giving its treatment a thorough trial is Mrs. Andrey Hayhoe, 1316 Earle Street, who describes her experience as follows: "Before I began using the Husky treatment I was in a very run-down state of health. I was nervous and felt weak all the time. I had no energy and the slightest exertion seemed to exhaust me completely. I knew that I must do something about myself, and when I heard about helping so many other people I decided to give it a trial.

MRS. SHRYOCK

"Husky fulfilled every expectation and more, for it has made me feel like a new person. Husky has relieved the nervousness and has strengthened me wonderfully, and I am getting new enjoyment out of life. MR. BALDWIN ON PAST OF WEST

THRILLING HISTORY OF HUDSON'S BAY COMPANY OUTLINED IN BRIEF

Sought for Furs and Found Empire—Created Great Tradition While Doing Business

WINNIPEG, Aug. 15.—Premier Stanley Baldwin's last words to the people of the prairies were words of optimism for his homeland and words of praise for the British working man. He scoffed at the idea of a revolution in Great Britain.

He declared in an address delivered at the Parliament Buildings here Saturday night that the self-restraint and courage of the working man of Great Britain were an example to the world.

The Prime Minister and Mrs. Baldwin arrived in Winnipeg at 7:45 o'clock Saturday evening from Calgary, and after a five-hour stop, continued their eastward journey, en route home.

At the Parliament Buildings a great crowd welcomed Mr. and Mrs. Baldwin. Mr. Baldwin spoke from an open window. The lawn below was packed and the stairways and halls behind him were jammed with people intently following the speech as it came over the amplifiers.

A laugh went up as Mr. Baldwin appeared, pipe in hand, on the platform before the open window. He calmly knocked the pipe on his heel and began his speech.

BRITAIN IN WAR

He spoke of the romance of the West, then turned to Great Britain. No country within the last ten years, he said, had faced such difficulties as had Great Britain. No country in the world has suffered as Great Britain had, nor had faced those difficulties with the same courage and with the same resolution. He would like two or three things to be realized about Great Britain. In the World War 6,000,000 of her population had served in the armies and 3,000,000 at munition works. Credit was destroyed in half the countries of the world. The devastated areas of Great Britain lay in broken markets in every country in the world. Such were the causes of Great Britain's unemployment.

THE FUR TRADERS

Speaking of the romance of Western Canada, Mr. Baldwin said no part of the Dominion had gained more than Manitoba from the union of East and West. No where could one have a more illuminating revelation of the building of a nation.

With facile phrase he sketched the early days of the West. There was no more romantic episode in the history of the Empire than the story of the Company of Adventurers trading into the Hudson Bay.

Mr. Baldwin said: "To look for the Northwest Passage while making profits out of furs; to obtain a charter of sovereignty over the land which contained all the waters flowing into the Hudson Bay while leaving these lands unexplored for many years—that was typically British. To seek for the Western equivalents of peacocks, apes and ivory and found an empire as a by-product; to create a great tradition of discipline and endurance around a commercial ideal; to treat the Indians as sources of profit, and yet to treat them justly and kindly; to keep one eye on dividends and the other on exploration—what other race could be so casual and so far-sighted, so inconsistent and so successful?"

HUDSON'S BAY COMPANY

The Hudson's Bay Company had been all these things. No one with a spark of imagination would fail to be thrilled by its story. They were the pathfinders, the trail-breakers. The names of their officers and their rivals and ultimate partners, the Northwest Company, were recorded forever on the map of Canada by such rivers as the Mackenzie, the Fraser, the Thompson and the Stewart. The spirit of the company was recorded, too, in the growth of law and order, in the planting of the germs of government, in the development of a transport system, and of an intelligence department in a country half the size of Europe.

CHEERED BY CROWD

WHITE RIVER, Ont., Aug. 15.—When Premier Baldwin passed through here early last evening, a crowd gathered on the station platform. The British Prime Minister was cheered as he descended from the train during the five-minute stop. He shook hands with many of the crowd and with railway employees, and as the train pulled out he was cheered again.

CONSERVATIVES OF ROYAL CITY ACTIVE

Mr. C. A. Welsh Is Expected to Accept Nomination for New Westminster Convention

The Conservatives of New Westminster will meet on Wednesday evening for the purpose of selecting a candidate to contest the riding in the by-election, polling for which will be held there one week from the following day, namely August 25. There has been a general opinion expressed that Mr. C. A. Welsh, one of New Westminster's best known business men, will be tendered the nomination if he will accept it.

His long connection with the business life of the city has brought him into close contact with the public among whom he is held in the highest esteem. Mr. Welsh has been reluctant in the past to enter into active political life, although repeatedly requested to do so. He has rather preferred to remain with his business affairs, although always manifesting a deep interest in everything that pertained to the public life of the country.

There has been no definite announcement on the part of Mr. Welsh what his course will be on Wednesday when the convention meets. Certain it is that a strong endeavor will be made to try to induce him to accept the nomination which it is felt by the Conservatives would mean almost certain winning of the seat for the Conservative cause.

Hon. S. F. Tolmie, M.P., will arrive on the Coast on Wednesday morning, and is expected to proceed at once to New Westminster, where he will consult with the leaders of the party of that riding with respect to the situation, and will be present to open the campaign following the nomination of a candidate by the party representatives of the riding.

Prince Sends Thanks

OTTAWA, Aug. 15.—Wiring from High River, Alta., H.R.H. the Prince of Wales has sent the following telegram to Premier W. L. Mackenzie King:

"Having finished the official part of my visit to Canada, may I once more thank you and the members of your Government for the great kindness and hospitality which has been shown to my brother and myself while we were your guests.

THE WINNIPEG CONVENTION

During the present month the delegates to the National Conservative Convention, to be held at Winnipeg in October, will be chosen. From all over the country, representative of every constituency, there will be some 1,500 members of the party at the Winnipeg gathering. The importance of the occasion demands an expression of opinion from Conservatism in Canada. A leader of the party has to be chosen, a platform of resolutions dealing with future policies will be drawn up, and, in the main, the organization and fortunes of the Conservatives will be under review. It is essential, therefore, that those most fully qualified to speak in the name of Conservatives everywhere should be chosen as delegates. In other words it is desirable that the Conservative sentiment in each constituency should find expression at the Winnipeg gathering.

Vancouver Island will be entitled to send somewhere in the neighborhood of twenty delegates to the Winnipeg Convention. The three constituencies of Victoria, Nanaimo and Comox-Alberni will each have four delegates to be chosen at association conventions. By virtue of being Federal members of Parliament, Dr. S. F. Tolmie and Mr. C. H. Dickie will be entitled to attend, and also Senators R. F. Green, G. H. Barnard and A. E. Planta. The latter five are already delegates, and it remains to choose those other representatives who will be eligible. The choice should not be made in any haphazard way. The very greatest care should be exercised to see that those delegates represent Conservative sentiment in a substantial way, but also that they are well equipped as spokesmen of the party's desires in the future lines of policy to be followed. The convention is perhaps the most important of its character ever planned. This Province, so essentially Conservative in its Federal outlook, should see to it that its representatives are of a calibre that in any case of emergency or crisis can give a lead to Conservative thought in the Dominion.

Within the next month or so the interest that has been aroused in the forthcoming National Convention will become greatly enhanced with the choice of delegates all over the Dominion. Very great care is being taken in the organization work. The gathering is being planned with an eye to secure the most representative assembly of Conservatives ever called together. If this hope is to be realized, each constituency must play its part in the choice it makes and send its leaders of Conservative thought to Winnipeg. The issues to be decided are momentous enough to warrant time and thought being given to deciding upon the personnel of those who can most agreeably and adequately represent each constituency of the Dominion.

THE WHEAT POOL

The advantages of the Wheat Pool in Western Canada, which dictates how the grain shall be marketed and routed, have been spoken of in terms of high commendation by Premier Baldwin. He has used the lesson of the Wheat Pool as an argument whereby the English farmers should get together and help themselves. He has asked those farmers if there are not too many intermediaries, and if some of them cannot be dispensed with hereafter. The bringing into effect of co-operative selling he regards as a suitable field for the energies of the Farmers' Union. In this respect he wants the British farmers to look more to themselves and less to the Government if they want to get more of that confidence which is bred of courage. Then he substantiated his advice by quoting the example of Canada as follows:

"I wonder how many of you have followed what the farmers of Canada have done. For years they were monkeyed about by the dealers and speculators in wheat. In less than five years the marketing methods of Western Canada have been revolutionized and depression has given way to optimism. All this has been done by the farmers themselves. Confronted by the slump following the post-war boom, they consulted together. They formed a pool of the great wheat-producing provinces. It is governed by the farmers themselves. A year ago they had a membership of 125,000. They disposed of 212,000,000 bushels of grain, grown on 14,000,000 acres of land, or 70 per cent of the total crop of the Dominion. That gigantic effort of self-help and keen work saved thousands of Canadian farmers from disaster. A movement like this has its critics, but it is authoritatively claimed for it that it prevented a glutting of the market, smoothed out the prices, and ruled out the unnecessary middleman."

MENTAL HYGIENE

The Province has had a Mental Hygiene Commission at work for a considerable time, and already it has made some substantial recommendations as to the housing and treatment of mental defectives in British Columbia. That Commission, if it is still functioning, will, we believe, be intensely interested in the work of Dr. William Hunter, the consulting physician of the London Fever Hospital, who has been engaged for a long time past in curing nervous and mental disorders by removing decayed teeth. Of that work Sir Berkeley Moynihan says: "William Hunter is applying the work of Lister to medicine, and the effect in that direction is going to be quite as great as the effect of Lister's work has been on surgery. Hunter for years has been a voice crying in the wilderness; his contemporaries are just as guilty as Lister's contemporaries were of that numbing and sterile vice—apathy."

What Dr. Hunter appears to have discovered is that mental trouble is by no means hereditary, nor is necessarily or even generally brought on by mental anxiety, but that it is in many cases due to the presence and toxic action of septic infection arising from septic teeth. Dr. Hunter's investigations deal with sepsis and antisepsis in relation to mental disorders. He has ascertained that the amount of chronic sepsis among the 133,000 patients in Britain's mental hospitals is far greater than that to be found in any other group of inmates of the country's hospitals. The removal of that sepsis in the case of mental defectives is, he believes, the first and most important measure of treatment that should be applied to them. Here is what he says:

"However much ordinary people in health may be able to resist and do successfully resist the deleterious action of the varying degrees of similar sepsis which they carry, the sufferer from mental disorder cannot afford to have any such sepsis unregarded. He is playing for the highest stakes—the preservation of his brain power and his sanity. Each mental hospital should, therefore, be as fully and as well equipped for surgical work as it has hitherto been for medical and nursing care. The possible standard of increased relief which this class of sufferer may receive is that their chances of recovery may be doubled, that the duration of their stay in hospital may be materially reduced, and that on discharge their chances of remaining well, physically and mentally, will be greatly improved by the removal of the sepsis which they previously carried, if that removal is carried out at the first onset of the trouble before permanent damage is done. But it is in the realm of prevention that this new application of antisepsis will find its greatest triumphs."

PRODUCTIVE ENERGY

Under the caption, "When Work Pays," Engineering deals with the effect of stinting energy in industry. It alludes to the practice of preventing a man's earnings increasing with his production. This may be accomplished in two ways, either "by a disposition among employers to cut piece or equivalent rates as output increases, or is imposed by a trade union rule or custom." In either case it deprives the worker of a tonic influence in his work. Engineering says that "in most occupations it prevents him conclusively both from getting the economic equivalent of his available energy, and from contributing his full share of the economic output by the offer of which customers are led to increase their orders and reduce the burden of overhead charges on the aggregate living of the workers."

Industry from the standpoint of both the employers and the employed appears to have been a long time coming to the realization that much is irretrievably lost by placing handicaps on the incentive of the workers. The fault latterly appears to lie mostly with trades unionism, which decrees that the same wage shall be paid for the same hours of employment to men similarly engaged. This does not mean in any sense that men are equal producers, for some are far superior to others, and yet under certain phases of trades unionism they are only permitted to enjoy the same wage. It is in a revision of its rules in this direction that trades unionism can make a notable contribution to the wealth in which it must inevitably share itself. It can restore incentive, and with incentive much self respect that has been lost to his followers.

The control of the port of Shanghai by the Nationalists is not resulting in Chinese trade being fostered. Taxes have been imposed on exports and heavy duties on imported luxuries. An extra 50 per cent on harbor dues has been announced, and prior to this Shanghai had been recognized as one of the most expensive ports in the world. Shanghai has enjoyed the reputation of being the fifth port in the world. It is now bound to lose its place. The Nationalist Government there is not popular. The commercial interests of all the nations have protested against the surtaxes, luxury taxes and the increase in tonnage dues, but without result. If the evidence of Nationalist rule at Shanghai is any criterion the outlook for foreign trade in China is anything but bright.

ISSUES AT NEW WESTMINSTER

But what the Government has got to answer, at New Westminster now, and in the country at large later on, is the charge that it has permitted its party machine to wax powerful and insolent beyond all reasonable endurance. The taste of campaign funds for the "protection and assurance" of the liquor trade has not been wiped out of the mouth of British Columbia by the certificates of purity issued by Royal Commissions, and it is still a bad taste. There is a strong feeling in this Province that what we need far more than constructive policies—although we do need constructive policies—and what would be more immediately useful to us than an ambitious programme of social legislation—although a reasonable development of social legislation ought not to be neglected—that what we must have at all costs, in a word, is government free of the interference and the dictation of the Government party workers. Unless we get that sort of government, we are going to head full steam on for the quicksands of corruption, and all our fine cargo of constructive policies and programmes of social legislation will have to be jettisoned.

We think these are the concerns which the electors of New Westminster will have in mind during the next ten days of platform eloquence. And if we had any advice to offer to the orators, it would be that they should deal plainly with these concerns.—Vancouver Province.

Note and Comment

By R. B. D.

Mr. D. G. Hughes, after paying his respects and some compliments to this column of The Colonist, asks if we remember a number of things that may have happened in the happy days of long ago. Indeed we do. We cherish them all as sacred and blessed memories. We remember the school days and the tops and the string and the marbles and the knives and the "penny dreadfuls" that we used to read in bed by the dim light of the tallow candle and the chastisement that followed the discovery of the dreadful forbidden "literary creations." We also remember the taws in the tail pocket of the long coat of the fierce and forceful dominie. We further remember another thing that possibly Mr. Hughes and nearly every other boy grown to man's dignified state remembers, too—the lassie with the golden hair and bright blue eyes who bestowed a sly coquettish glance upon us as we passed by with our top and our string and our ball.

But there is another and very important thing that we and Mr. Hughes must not forget—that it is considered very bad form in these hard and matter of fact days to drop into sentimentalities. That is something which is never done by the stern literary realists and critics of the present day. That is to say, it is never done by any but the best of the writers of works of imagination and humor. It was done by the first of the story tellers, Richardson, and by all his successors, Fielding and Smollet and Sterne and Gaskell and Eliot and Scott and Thackeray and Dickens and Stevenson and many of the immortals who forded the Dark River long ago; and it has been done by Barrie and Lucas and a few others of the present day; but it is not done by most of the people who call themselves the Great Literary Creative Artists of this day.

The latter gifted men and advanced women are not content with telling a story. They have something grander in their minds than that. Their mission is to reform the world and create a new earth, and possibly a new heaven for us all after we have done with the new earth they have established. To drop into sentimentality is considered a sign of weakness, even an evidence of imbecility. To feed the fire of the animal passions and gratify or satisfy them without limitation is considered an evidence of physical virility and perfection.

Putting away sentiment and reverting to reality, we have been looking over some of the newspapers of Eastern Canada, and have found in them some observations that remind us of the days when it was illegal to drive motor cars at a greater rate of speed than ten or fifteen miles an hour. That, of course, would be a ridiculous regulation in these days of well-built and splendidly equipped motor cars and when time is so precious that it is considered a crime to lose a second in rushing from one place to aonther. But there is another aspect to the matter, and Sir Thomas White, of Toronto, has written a letter to the papers calling attention to this aspect of the matter, and most of the leading newspapers of the East have commented upon the gravity of the situation as portrayed by Sir Thomas.

The former Finance Minister of Canada directs attention to the number of fatal and serious accidents on the streets of Toronto and on the public highways of Canada, and suggests that the authorities should give the matter their most serious consideration, unless, of course, the value of human life is a mere bagetelle compared with the value of the time of the people who drive motor cars, which an average jury probably would not place at an exceedingly high figure after giving its very serious consideration to the circumstances of the case.

The average number of deaths on the streets of Toronto as a result of motor car accidents is one a week, and it is increasing rapidly. Sir Thomas White attributes this alarming and increasing death rate to relaxation of the law fixing the limits of speed at which cars may be driven. The change was made in Ontario as it was made in British Columbia and in the other Provinces, on recommendation by motor interests, by the people who drive motor cars and by the people who manufacture motor cars. The idea of the motor interests was to bring the regulations in Canada into harmony with the rules of the road in some of the States of the American Republic. We in British Columbia know the manner in which too many drivers interpret the rule regarding "driving to the public danger."

The gravity of the situation from every point of view is thus discussed by Sir Thomas White:

"I know there are those who contend that excessive speed is not responsible for the majority of motor accidents, and this may be so. But one has only to read the press accounts of such accidents and the evidence relating thereto at inquests and court hearings to realize that undue speed is accountable for a great number of deaths, and it is certainly worth while to endeavor to prevent these. The great majority of motorists would, I am confident, be in favor of legislation which will prevent so great a slaughter of their fellow-citizens as we are at present witnessing, even if considerable inconvenience should be imposed upon themselves by such legislation. Moreover, it is the motorists themselves who are suffering the most through the excessive speeding of a few of their number.

"Unless a halt is speedily caused to the motor-killing which goes on on the highways of Ontario, motorists who value their lives and those of their family will hesitate to make use of their motors for a day's outing. A motorist may be ever so careful and yet he and his family may be blotted out of life in the twinkling of an eye through an encounter with a speed fiend travelling at the rate of fifty or more miles per hour.

"It is in the interests of the motorists themselves that a reasonable rate of speed should be adopted and strictly enforced. No matter how prone to speeding a motorist may be he is bound to be careful if he knows that in all probability he will be caught in his speeding and incur a fine of several hundred dollars or imprisonment, or both. Such a drastic law would have to be honestly enforced and magistrates before conviction would have to be assured that the traffic officer's evidence was absolutely reliable, but the law, in my view, should be aimed at prevention by such penalties as I have indicated rather than by fine or imprisonment after accidents have occurred, as the damage is then done.

"Personally I believe a grave mistake was made when the rate for the country was raised to thirty-five miles per hour. Thirty would have been high enough and twenty-five better, as there is always a tendency to slightly exceed the lawful limit. And twenty miles an hour would have been the proper rate for our city streets."

The Rhyming Optimist

By Aline Michaelis

TRUE GRATITUDE

Why should I not be glad, although I have not had life's rich and splendid chances, although I have not known great ventures of my own or shared in rare romances? For few indeed are they who see life's facets gay and drink its wine of gladness; the common lot, instead, it is to joy, to dread, and, mixed with bliss, find sadness. But who would not be glad to know that he had had a part in all of living? To know he understood his brothers' every mood, who would not feel thanksgiving? The truly thankful breast not only for life's best his pleasure voices; but that he shared in all, knows good, bad, great and small, his heart rejoices. This is true gratitude: To find in every mood, in all life's phases, some good that may be won; in shadow as in sun some cause for praises.

World Poultrymen on Journey to Province

WINNIPEG, Aug. 15.—Representatives of eighteen countries and nationalities were welcomed to Manitoba yesterday, when 127 delegates of the world's poultry congress, recently held in Ottawa, arrived here en route to the Western Provinces.

Today the visitors are guests of the city, and at 3 p.m. will continue the journey westward.

Princes Wield Forks

CALGARY, Aug. 15.—His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales and Prince George, after an early morning ride over the E.P. Ranch, spent several hours helping in the haying, each wielding a lusty fork. After lunch they returned to this labor for another hour. They alternated between pitching hay and hauling it to the barns. The members of their entourage enjoyed themselves in other fashion.

At 4:45 the whole party left for High River by automobile. There they boarded the royal train for Calgary, where Their Royal Highnesses will be guests in the evening at the Calgary Drag Hunt ball. They leave early Thursday morning for Banff and the Pacific Coast.

So far as can be learned, the Prince has no intention of visiting the United States en route east.

WALKS AND TALKS

Sir,—In one of his recent articles, Dr. McCoy made the suggestion that his followers should organize walking clubs, and that during the course of their walks they should cheer one another along with jolly discussions on diets, food combinations, etc. The walking is an excellent idea, because probably exercise is mainly what the majority of them need and if they could only drop the eternal question of their insides, forget themselves, and talk about something different, even if it were only sealing wax, or cabbages, or kings, much benefit might be derived. Greater benefit all round might be derived also, if, in walking, they walk as far away as possible from those inoffensive citizens, not of the elect, who have faith in their own, medical advisor and are not seeking advice either for themselves or children from any other quarter.

HOME INDUSTRY

Sir,—Some time ago you allowed me, through the columns of your paper, an appeal to the poultrymen of this Province for the use of the local clam shell grit in preference to the imported oyster shell. Through this medium and personal interviews I am now able to report that at least ninety per cent of our poultrymen are using the local product (found in great quantities on our shores and marketed as ground beach shell) and finding it thoroughly satisfactory.

There are still, unfortunately, some among us who consider it good business to send 3,000 miles for the imported product and pay high freight rates, duty, and sundry commissions for an article which by physical and chemical tests substantiated by Government officials, both here and in the agricultural colleges of Washington, is inferior to the local product. This is, of course, a free country, and if a man desires to throw his money into the sea "it is his own funeral" to use a local phrase.

What I am particularly concerned in is this: That those wholesale feed dealers, who care little for the weal or woe of their country, but are chiefly concerned with the margin of profits on the goods they sell as they loll back in their softly-padded armchairs—such goods being produced by the sweat, toil and industry of real men—have started a campaign to educate the poultrymen to re-import the oyster shell from the Atlantic seaboard in order to enhance their personal wealth, irrespective of the fact that the local factories will have to close their doors and cast their machinery on the scrap heap, as many other local producers have had to do in the past.

This, Mr. Editor, is not fiction, but fact. I had it from the lips of the managers of one of the largest feed stores in both Victoria and in Duncan, who boasted of the fact that they had already started their campaign in favor of the imported shell.

It may be of interest to mention that everything that a chicken consumes is imported into this Island, except shell grit. Had the producers the least encouragement from the wholesalers such things as charcoal, bone meal, limestone rock, granite, and other poultry necessaries, could be produced locally.

FUMIGATION DELAYS

Sir,—My attention has been called to some comments in The Daily Colonist of August 6, over the signature of Mr. Chas. Walkden, and headed "Fumigation Delays." The insinuation that the delays referred to are the fault of the officials in charge of inspection or fumigation of imported plants is very misleading.

Anyone may have the opportunity of satisfying themselves that there is no delay once the imported trees, shrubs, plants or bulbs arrive at the inspection station at Vancouver, where everything is provided for the proper care of the stock. Incidentally, it is not an unusual thing for shipments to leave the inspection station in much better shape than they arrived. The special care of the stock is the first concern of the expert officials in charge of the work. Sometimes it arrives in a condition past redemption owing to bad packing, overheating or delay.

Unfortunately ther are many people who send abroad for stock without thought of any regulations that may govern its importation. That is most often the cause of delay, as transportation companies are not allowed to deliver a shipment until the regulations have been complied with.

Had the importer or consignee taken the trouble to apply to this office for the information he would have received the following instructions: "When ordering trees, shrubs, plants or bulbs from any Province or country outside British Columbia instruct the shipper to address them to the consignee via Vancouver Inspection Station." That procedure will insure the shipment complying with regulations and avoid any mistakes on the part of transportation companies that sometimes cause so much delay.

Do not forget to apply to secretary of Destructive Insect and Pest Act Advisory Board, Department of Agriculture, Ottawa, for permit to import any trees, shrubs, plants or bulbs from any place outside Canada. Without such permit shipments cannot clear Customs.

Always request shipper to provide certified Customs invoices to accompany foreign shipments; two copies for Customs, one for this office and one for consignee. Such invoices should contain the name of the State and country where the stock was grown; also the quantity, kind and value of the stock. An ordinary invoice containing the same information should accompany shipments from other Provinces in Canada.

No trees, shrubs, plants, bulbs or plant products infested with insect pest or infested with disease are permitted to be imported.

There is a provision for certain stock from other Provinces of Canada to be inspected in other parts of British Columbia than Vancouver, under special arrangement with this office. The Government cannot be blamed for stock that arrives in the Province in bad condition.

Mercury Touches 85

At 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon the mercury at the Dominion Weather Bureau at Gonzales Heights registered eighty-five in the shade. This was the highest point touched during the day, a sudden shift of the breeze bringing the temperature down within two hours to seventy-two. The meteorologist, Mr. Napier Denison, predicts continued fine warm weather, the barometer being high to the north and low to the south.

Gentlemen:

I want to take this opportunity to say what great relief your I-ON-A-CO Bcilt has given me. For the last three years I have suffered with rheumatism in my hips and legs; in fact, lately the pain was so bad I could not drive my car, and I had almost made up my mind to quit work. I have been taking treatments for three weeks, and the benefit I have received is amazing. I am a painter by trade, and I can now do my day's work without effort; in fact, I feel ten years younger than I did a month ago. Anyone who is run down or in pain should not wait a day, but go and see you and start taking treatments and get well, as I have done.

Yours respectfully,

MR. GARY DIES IN NEW YORK

Chairman of Board of Directors of U.S. Steel Corporation Succumbs to Illness in Fifth Ave. Home

FORMER LAWYER GREAT FINANCIER

NEW YORK, Aug. 15.—Elbert H. Gary, for twenty-five years executive head of the United States Steel Corporation, died at his home on Fifth Avenue today. He was eighty years old. Death, which followed an illness of a month, occurred at 3:40 a.m. today, but was not officially announced until forenoon. It was believed in Wall Street that the intention had been to withhold news of Mr. Gary's death until after the close of the stock exchange lest there should be a break in prices, but when persistent rumors at last brought official confirmation, there was only a slight flurry of selling.

The announcement of Mr. Gary's death gave only the time, place and the cause—chronic myocarditis.

Mr. Gary's body will be taken on Wednesday to Chicago for burial near his old home at Wheaton, Illinois. Mr. Gary was credited with organizing the United States Steel Corporation, which, in many quarters, has been considered as a barometer of the country's business prosperity.

It was he who elliminated the twelve-hour day in the steel industry.

His two daughters, Mrs. Robert W. Campbell, wife of the chairman of the board of trustees of Northwestern University, and Mrs. Gertrude Sutcliffe of Chicago, are at the Campbell home, in Evanston, seat of the Northwestern University.

It was stated that the cause of Mr. Gary's death was chronic myocarditis. He had been in ill health for about a month. At the offices of the steel corporation, the exact time of death was placed at 4:30 o'clock this morning. Beyond that bare announcement it was said no details could be known until some time in the afternoon.

OF NEW ENGLAND STOCK

Elbert Henry Gary was born on his father's farm near Wheaton, Illinois, and was descended from old New England stock on one side, his father, Erastus Gary, having sprung from the hardy Puritans who settled Massachusetts. His mother, Abiah Valette Gary, was a descendant of one of the officers in the army of Lafayette and fought with him for the independence of the American colonies. He was educated in the public schools, Wheaton College and the University of Chicago.

He was admitted to the bar of Illinois in 1867 and to the bar of the United States Supreme Court in 1882. His home town early recognized his ability as a leader and for three terms its citizens elected him president of the town of Wheaton. Then when the place became a city he was chosen as its first mayor and re-elected for a second term. Mr. Gary also served two terms as county judge of Dupage County, Illinois. It was from this office that he derived the title of judge, and was familiarly called Judge Gary ever after.

ENTERS FINANCE

The rise of Mr. Gary to be the chief executive officer of the United States Steel Corporation—he was chairman of the executive committee and later of the board of directors and of the finance committee—may be said to have been due to an incident in the practice of law. In 1898, as general counsel for and a director of the Illinois Steel Company, he was called upon to take charge of the organization of the Federal Steel Company. It was he who first suggested the amalgamation and it was then for the first time he was brought in touch with the late J. Pierpont Morgan.

U. S. STEEL CHAIRMAN

With the organization of the United States Steel Corporation the business created by Mr. Carnegie was purchased in 1901 for $492,006,160, and, in all, ten large companies were taken into the merger with a combined capital of $867,550,394. It was the biggest undertaking in the industrial world and the financial world gasped when the corporation announced its plans for an authorized capital of $1,100,000,000 in stock and $304,000,000 in bonds. Charles M. Schwab became president and Mr. Gary chairman of the executive committee.

Riding School Outing

Members and pupils of Captain Williamson's Riding School had a most enjoyable outing on Sunday. A ride in the morning to Cadboro Bay, followed by an excellent dinner at the hotel there and an after-dinner ride in the country around constituted an ideal day's outing, and all returned to the stable at the Willows with grateful expressions. The party consisted of Captain and Mrs. C. Williamson, Mr. and Mrs. J. Macallen, Mrs. C. Brockbank, the Misses Darley, Kitto, Childs, Caddens, Simpson, Wyles, Vera and Evelyn Williamson, and Messrs. E. Eve and A. Lendi.

PRINCE OF WALES TO OPEN NEW ROAD

His Royal Highness to Officiate at Formal Ceremony at Mt. Revelstoke National Park

Tomorrow evening, at 7:45 o'clock, H. R. H. the Prince of Wales will officiate at the formal opening of the Mount Revelstoke Mountain Highway leading to the summit of Mount Revelstoke National Park.

The City of Revelstoke officials, who have charge of the arrangements, have issued a number of invitations for the opening of the road, the minor details of which will begin at 1:30 p.m. with an organized drive to the summit of Mount Revelstoke. At 2:30 the road will be closed at the entrance for up-traffic, and from 3 to 5 o'clock tea will be served at the mountain top. At 5:30 the road will be closed for down-traffic from the summit in order that the highway may be well cleared by the time of the official opening by the Prince of Wales at 7:45 o'clock. This ceremony will probably occupy only a few minutes, and will be followed by special celebrations in Revelstoke, with a band concert on McKenzie Avenue, and an informal dance at the Drill Hall.

It was on September 20, 1919, just a little less than eight years ago, that the Prince of Wales dedicated Mount Revelstoke National Park for the enjoyment and use of the people of Canada. The road, which represents the completion of fifteen years of work, has been designated "The Royal Highway" from the fact that three Royal visitors have shown their interest in this scenic highway by making the ascent to the top of the mountain, each of the visitors planting a post along the road. The first was planted by H. R. H. the Duke of Connaught in 1916; the second by Prince Arthur of Connaught in 1918, and the third by the Prince of Wales on September 20, 1919. The Duke of Devonshire and Baron Byng of Vimy, two Governors-General of Canada, have also made the trip up the mountain highway.

The newly-completed road is a two-way highway, twenty miles long, and leads to an altitude of 6,700 feet, the summit of Mount Revelstoke. Views of unusual splendor unfold on all sides during the ascent.

Brother and Sisters Drown When Berrying

FORT WILLIAM, Ont., Aug. 15.—The waters of the Kaministiquia River took a toll of three lives over the week-end when the three children of Mr. and Mrs. Howard were drowned.

The dead: Emily Isabella Howard, six; Constance Evelyn, twelve, and Henry Gordon, sixteen.

The three children were on a berry picking expedition when the tragedy occurred. When attempting to gather some berries from a bush overhanging the water, the youngest of the trio, Emily, was plunged into the river when the bank gave way. Though unable to swim, her sister attempted a rescue and the frantic cries of the girls brought the brother, who was some distance away when the little girl fell in. Fully clothed, the boy plunged in and caught hold of his sisters. He attempted to struggle for shore, but all three sank from view before assistance arrived from the opposite shore.

Tug Men Rescued

PORT DOVER, Ont., Aug. 15.—After being in the water for an hour, John Davis, Frank McBride and Ernest Murphy, of the freight tug Tuthland, were rescued from Lake Erie Saturday night by tugs sent from here. Twelve miles off this port the Tuthland caught fire. The men made a desperate attempt to extinguish flames, and when they found it impossible, they donned life preservers and jumped into the water. The fire was seen from here and tugs put out to the rescue.

ENTRIES SHOW BIG INCREASE

B.C. AGRICULTURAL ASSOCIATION FAIR HAS 25 PER CENT MORE ENTRIES

Women's Building to be an Outstanding Feature—Many Special Prizes Are Offered

A twenty-five per cent increase is shown in the entries for the British Columbia Agricultural Fair, which opens next Monday at the Willows, it was stated yesterday by Mr. W. H. Davies, advertising manager of the fair.

The Women's Building gives promise of being one of the most outstanding features of the fair. A number of special prizes have been offered in this section this year, with the result that a large number of entries have been received. All available floor space in this building has been taken. The women's exhibit is in charge of Mrs. Crocker.

In the break-making class, special prizes have been offered by the Ogilvie Flour Mills, Brackman-Ker Milling Company, Limited, Vancouver Milling Company and the Lake of the Woods Company. There are ten prizes in all in this section.

The Blue Ribbon Baking Powder Company and the B. & R. Baking Powder Company offer three prizes for cakes made with their products. The British Columbia Electric Railway Company has also put up a special prize for the best laundry work on exhibit.

The Colonist has offered a prize for girls, sixteen years and under, in the sewing section; Angus Campbell a prize for knitted work, Hudson's Bay Company for embroidery work, Spencer's, Limited for crochet work, and The Victoria Daily Times for girls, sixteen years and under, in the domestic science class. There are many other prizes offered, but those mentioned are for the special features of the exhibit.

Canadian Delegates To Radio Conference

WASHINGTON, Aug. 15.—The Canadian delegation to the International Radio conference, called for Washington in October, probably will be headed by Alex Johnson, Deputy Minister of Marine and Fisheries, and Commander C. P. Edwards, director of raido telegraphy for Canada, with two or three others yet to be announced. The conference is of particular interest to Canada because a separate conference on wave lengths, held in Washington last Spring, failed in reaching an agreement. The nature of the Canadian proposals at the forthcoming conference is not known here.

UNDER-INFLATION wastes MILLIONS of tire-miles

Buy Goodyear Tubes and Prevent Loss

The Goodyear Heavy Tourist Tube gives the greatest protection to the new Goodyear Balloon——THE WORLD'S GREATEST TIRE—as well as to any other tire.

NEVER before have you been able to buy tires which gave such long, long mileage.

And never before was it so important to protect that mileage by preventing under-inflation of your tires.

With record mileage built into your tires, don't let under-inflation take those miles out.

* * * *

Particularly be careful of Balloon Tires. While a 3 or 4-pound loss of pressure in a high-pressure tire may mean only 5% less pressure, a 3 or 4-pound loss in a balloon tire will mean 10% or 15% less pressure. Such a loss is serious.

The best way to prevent under-inflation is to use good tubes.

Never put an old tube in a new casing. The old tube may be porous—may have a slow leak.

And when you buy tubes, buy Goodyear Tubes.

* * * *

Built by a refining process which insures every sheet of rubber being absolutely free from flaws, Goodyear Tubes are as near perfect as it is humanly possible to make them. They last as long as the casing and they hold air more faithfully.

In Tubes, As In Tires Goodyear Means Good Wear

WILL RESURFACE BETWEEN TRACKS

Council to Carry Out Improvement on Esquimalt and Craigflower Roads at Once

The Esquimalt Council decided yesterday to proceed at once with resurfacing between the trolley tracks on Esquimalt Road and Craigflower Road. The municipality will be reimbursed by the B.C. Electric Railway Company on a basis of actual cost plus ten per cent. A letter received from the railway company mentioned that they would in the near future attend to the projecting guard rails near Head Street; the tracks opposite the Municipal Hall will also be brought to the proper level, the company stated.

On recommendation of the municipal engineer a permit to build a garage on the roadway at Ellery Street was not granted, the Council feeling that they had no authority to do so. Councillors Lockley and Anderson moved and seconded that a tarvia sidewalk seventy-five feet long be constructed along the north side of Dunsmuir Road. Tenders for fifty garbage cans will be put in the hands of several local hardware concerns and sheet metal shops, the Council decided.

The sidewalk on Anson Street was reported in a letter from a resident to be in a dilapidated condition. Councillor Anderson told of stray cows trampling on the woodwork, which was responsible for most of the damage, he said. The municipal engineer mentioned that many nearby golf players were in the habit of lifting up the boards to find lost balls, and then forgetting to replace them. Councillor Lockley moved that the sidewalk be inspected and necessary repairs made.

The advisability of charging ratepayers for repairs to the road, incidental to new water connections, was thoroughly discussed by the Council. At the present time the municipality makes the necessary repairs and is reimbursed by the city, but the Water Works Department wishes the work to be paid for by the residents themselves. Councillor Lockley thought this a very delicate point of law and moved that the engineer take the matter up with the city water works department.

The report of Chief Acreman for the last month showed that ten police court cases had netted fines of $100, trades licences collected amounted to $150, and fifty-seven complaints were received and attended to. Only two actual fires had occurred in Esquimalt, the report showed.

Constable D. Hodnet, who has been on the police force on probation, was yesterday appointed as a permanent member of the department. A letter received from Mr. C. R. D. Ferris expressed appreciation of the work of the chief in recovering a stolen purse and apprehending the guilty parties within twenty-four hours.

WESTPORT, Tenn., Aug. 16.—Terry N. Wood, Jackson, Tenn., engineer of a Gulf, Mobile & Northern freight train, was fatally injured; W. H. Kane, Paducah, Ky., engineer of a Nashville Chattannooga & St. Louis passenger train suffered minor injuries, when the two trains collided tonight.

Woman Suffered Nearly a Year. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Brought Her Health

Moose Jaw, Sask.—"I am going to try to tell you what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for me. I suffered very badly with dragging-down pains and inflammation, also pains in my right side over my hip and down my whole side into my leg. I had it nearly a year when I went to a doctor and he said I would have to have an operation. But my mother said to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound as it saved her life years before. I took two bottles and I found I was better, so I kept on taking it and also used Lydia E. Pinkham's Sanative Wash. I have had two more children since then and am perfectly well. I used to have to lie down two or three times a day, and now I do all my housework without trouble. I always keep the Vegetable Compound in the house as I find a dose now and then helps me. I am willing for you to use this letter any way you see fit and I will answer letters. If I can help any other woman I'd be only too glad to try."—Mrs. ESTHER HOUGHTON, 414 Morse Square, Moose Jaw, Saskatchewan.

Considerable praise is also due to Victorians and visiting friends of the work who responded liberally, a goodly number of bills being deposited in the boxes.

Sacraments Form Issue At World Faith Parley

LAUSANNE, Switzerland, Aug. 15.—The differences between East and West on the subject of Sacraments were clearly shown during discussions of the world conference on faith and order. Delegates acknowledged that the conference faced one of its most difficult tasks in reconciling the mystical views of the Eastern, or Greek Catholic Church and its superlative reverence for tradition, with the modern opinions of Western Protestantism.

The Rev. Nicholai, Bishop of Ochrida, Jugoslavia, and representative of the Eastern Orthodox Church, was one of the speakers selected to present the subject of the Sacraments. He said there were seven Sacraments, namely, Baptism, Confirmation, The Eucharist, Penance, Ordination, Marriage and Extreme Unction.

While recognizing the important problems that arise in connection with the other sacramental rites of the church, the conference decided to limit discussion as far as possible to Baptism and the Lord's Supper.

The representative of the Eastern Orthodox Church defined all these rites as "mysteries" and protested against any limitations of the subject to the selected.

"As for us of the East," he said, "we are afraid to depreciate any of the seven marvelous mysteries."

He also argued against any attempt to set up modern opinion against traditional interpretation of the Sacraments.

GENERAL SUTTON INSPECTS MINES

Ex-Adviser of Manchurian War Lord in Motor Car Accident on Way to Barkerville

QUESNEL, B.C., Aug. 15.—General F. A. Sutton and Major Montague Moore, of Vancouver, en route to Barkerville, where the General is interested in dredging ground, were delayed here several hours owing to an accident to their second car, which was following, driven by Major Morgan. A broken steering knuckle resulted in the automobile turning completely over the Big Stables at the 134-Mile House, old-time stopping place and stage-changing station of the B.X. Company. Neither Major Morgan nor his companion, Harry Barnet, expert driller, of San Francisco, were injured.

General Sutton expects to remain in the Barkerville area for a week or ten days. General Sutton is investing in British Columbia part of the fortune earned in years of adventure in China. He recently retired as white adviser to Shang Tso Lin, the Manchurian and Peking war lord.

Lord Hewart stated this morning that he has come to Canada for the express purpose of attending the Canadian Bar Association convention in Toronto, but that he would also run across to Buffalo to speak before the members of the American Bar Association, while he intended seeing the Dominion of Canada as far West as Banff and as far East as the Maritimes. He added that this was his first visit to Canada and that he would not make any suggestions as regards Canadian jurisprudence. "I shall not presume to make any suggestions," he stated. "Rather on the contrary, I come for the purpose of observing and learning."

U.C.T. FROLIC TO BENEFIT CHARITY

September 15 Is Date Set for Attraction—Programme Includes Swimming and Vaudeville

The frolic to be held by the United Commercial Travelers on September 15 at the Crystal Garden and the Royal Victoria Theatre, promises to eclipse any event of its kind ever held in the city. The net proceeds will be devoted to charity. Last year the "Men of the Grip" staged a frolic at the Crystal Garden, but thousands of Victorians were denied the privilege of attending the event through lack of accommodation. In order to avert a repetition of this the organizers have secured the Royal Victoria Theatre in addition to the local amusement centre. Dancing, with three orchestras, will be carried out at the Crystal Garden, in addition to swimming. At the Royal Victoria Theatre a first class vaudeville show, featuring the presentation of some of the leading artists of the Pacific Coast, will be carried out.

In conjunction with the frolic a around-the-world cruise on the Canadian Pacific liner Empress of France, or a Model 62 Chrysler car is being offered. The cruise covers approximately 25,000 miles, and will take about three months to complete.

It was a tight little tussle and not decided until the final frame, when the Millmen laid down an offensive which brought in three tallies and decided the issue.

The game was attended by a big crowd and the interest in the series is keen. The teams will meet again in the second game of the series at Queen's Park, Wednesday Victoria winners play the Burnaby team.

'MONTE CRISTO' IS CAPITOL FEATURE

"The World Is Mine," Declares Edmond Dantes in Film Classic at Local House

"Monte Cristo" is now showing at the Capitol Theatre. The plot deals with the stirring adventures of a young French sailor, Edmond Dantes, who, on the eve of his marriage, is arrested and thrown into prison on false charges. He stays there for twenty years and finally makes his escape. A fortune comes to him from a former fellow prisoner. He then seeks revenge and how he succeeds without actually shedding any blood by his own hands make this a story and screen drama of uncommon worth.

On the stage at the Capitol Theatre this week the vaudeville attractions are very entertaining and novel; they include the Harmony Sisters, Mae and Phylis Keith in another surprise packet of songs and melodies; Wm. Degan, the eminent bass soloist, in song selections, and the Hartmens in "The Act Supreme." All in all the acts for this week are exceptionally good, and are certainly great added attractions.

DOMINION STARS MARIE DRESSLER

Famous Canadian Artist Is Mrs. Callahan in Hilarious Screen Version of Well-Known Novel

How much can a girl accomplish—with absolutely no help nor encouragement?

The answer is—

The woman who won fame as one of America's greatest theatrical stars—who during the war sold ninety millions worth of Liberty Bonds for the Government—who today is personally known and loved by kings, emperors and famous people the world over and reckoned one of the best informed women of all time—never went to school a day in her life!

She is Marie Dressler, stage star, authoress and international celebrity.

Miss Dressler, who plays the role of Mrs. Callahan in "The Callahans and the Murphys," Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's hilarious filmization of the Kathleen Norris novel, now at Dominion Theatre, is perhaps the perfect example of a self-made woman. Born in Coburg, Canada, the daughter of a musician, she was forced by poverty to seek a job in a circus at the age of fourteen. By work and study she rose to stardom—now speaks several languages, and is recognized as a cultured woman.

PLAYHOUSE THEATRE Naturally the men and boys are thronging the Playhouse Theatre this week to see their baseball hero, Babe Ruth, in the First National comedy-drama which is offered there, "Babe Comes Home." But the surprising thing about the picture is that women are equaling the men and boys in attendance! However, Ruth himself appeals to the feminine sex. He has proved a splendid actor, a whimsical and appealing screen personality, and a lover of an entirely new type in "Babe Comes Home." While baseball forms an important part of the picture, the Babe has even more comedy and romantic scenes than action on the diamond.

COLUMBIA THEATRE The twenty-foot movie kiss that held the sighing flapper in rapt ecstacy has resulted in an over-emphasis of screen love-making that must undergo a change if pictures are to become a true reflection of life. This is the contention of Garrett Fort, scenarist, whose latest effort, "White Gold," starring Jetta Goudal and featuring Kenneth Thomson and George Bancroft, will be on view at the Columbia Theatre today and tomorrow. "It has tended to reflect life only in its stages of tense excitement and high pressure," Fort said. "The love theme has always been exaggerated to a degree that sometimes makes the picture ridiculous. The motion picture public has become satiated with the saccharine trend and the love theme must be made relative to other elements."

VARIETY THEATRE Once in an age there comes to the screen a picture that can be truly classed as epochal. Such a production is "The British Clipper," which opened for a week's run at the Variety Theatre last night, and scored an emphatic hit. The refreshing element in this fine picture is the unhackneyed plot of a drama that grips your attention in the first reel and holds it through a well-developed continuity to the final smashing climax. The exhilaration is supplied by the genuinely thrilling realism of a storm at sea, with the Clipper battling her way through a terrific typhoon around Cape Horn, and the lusty, red-blooded battle in which handsome and rugged Will Boyd quells a gang of villainous mutineers after a great fist fight in which no holds are barred.

GODOWSKY TO TOUR CONTINENT

Musical Genius, for First Time in Five Years, to Visit Canada and United States

The announcement that Leopold Godowsky, unquestionably one of the foremost musical craftsmen of today, is for the first time in five years to make an extended tour of Canada and the United States during the coming Winter, has been hailed with delight by the musical world of this continent. His first recital will be given in Carnegie Hall, New York, on October 9, and on October 29 and November 12 he will play again in the same auditorium. Everyone in Victoria and Vancouver, where he has appeared in recital on several occasions, will hope that his plans for the season will include recitals here. In this connection it may be noted that he has dedicated several of his recent compositions to a local artist, Gertrude Huntley Green. Among these dedicated pieces were some of his Schubert song arrangements and some Mozart cadenzas which she has already decided to include in her repertoire this year.

The New York Herald-Tribune of recent date devotes a long article on its musical page to Mr. Godowsky, whom it describes as "an inveterate traveler, a master pedagogue, and a pianistic marvel who leaps from continent to continent with the winged vigor of some musical Lindbergh. He has had a niche all his own for many years. But because of his far-flung travels and his itinerant manner of living, because of his extended tours in distant lands and his infrequent recitals in this country, the cosmopolitan music lover in these environs who gobbles down an amazing musical melange in the midseason rush is inclined to acknowledge the magnitude of Godowsky's genius, while at the same time he regards his star as a distant one. . . . Among pianists, among the sparsely settled intellectual centres occupied by thinking musicians, Godowsky's talents have long since been acclaimed and perfectly framed in tributes whose significance acquires more and more authoritative weight with each passing year. Official recognitions and honors accorded his art on both sides of the Atlantic have been impressive. In a picturesque sense he is a nineteenth century apparition in a twentieth century setting. This genius of the keyboard, who made his debut at the age of nine in Russia, and in this country at the age of fourteen, travels by airplane whenever possible. He flashes rather infrequently past the public eye, but as the years pass one acquires an amazing series of snapshots.

"To that vague mass of music lovers loosely designated as "the public," Mr. Godowsky and his art have remained something of an enigma. There are a number of legends concerning his piano playing. There are individuals who consider him an unparalleled genius; there are others who find him a cool, dispassionate analyst with little fervor or poetic warmth, a performer who astounds the intellect. To pianists and many musicians, however, Godowsky is a prophet. His angle of vision, like the vision of all true prophets, is piercingly different. To his colleagues not only his playing, but his compositions are illuminating and strangely pregnant with intimations of undiscovered worlds of tone. Josef Hofman calls him a great master in his art. Rachmaninoff daringly ventures to define him as the only musician of his age who has given a lasting, a real contribution to the development of music. Josefty was sincere and lavish in his praise. Huneker dashed off half a dozen vivid phrases, among them 'the superman of the piano,' 'a Brahma of the keyboard,' 'the Violet Ray,' 'nothing like him since Chopin.' For years De Pachmann slept with a copy of Godowsky's piano sonata beneath his pillow. He once exclaimed, in a burst of unwonted sincerity when discussing pianists: 'We are all children, all woodchoppers, compared with him.'"

The Herald-Tribune concludes its panygeric with the comment that the very tributes lavished upon Godowsky by great pianists is in itself ample proof that his art is a most highly developed one, although in all its plentitude revealed only to an inner circle of initiates, although the impressive literature he has created for the piano, lovely suites, sonatas, and transcriptions, paraphrases and studies, are winning a steadily increasing public.

Picnic at Royston

Despite unsettled weather, the picnic held by the Women's Auxiliaries of Cumberland and Royston, at Gartley's Beach, was well attended, and the afternoon passed off very successfully. Rev. E. O. Robathan was present, and the reception was held on the veranda of Mr. and Mrs. Mumford's Summer home, which is one of many delightful Summer residences on this stretch of beach. The vicar welcomed the members, and in a few remarks reminded them of the aims and ideals of the W.A. Mrs. Wood, president of the Courtenay W.A. replied, and Mrs. Corker, of the Comox W.A., hoped this would be the forerunner of future gatherings. Mrs. Pack, president of the Royston W.A., the youngest branch in the district, spoke of the success so far attending them. Mrs. Shortt, of the Holy Trinity W.A., stated how glad they were to have the members of other auxiliaries as their guests. Following a short address by Miss Dibben, who has been doing missionary work at Alert Bay, the company settled down to the entertainment provided, finally ending by a sing-song round the monster camp fire.

Health and Diet Advice

By DR. FRANK McCOY

TAN AND SUNBURN

The ultra-violet rays from sunlight are chemical rays which have a distinctly beneficial effect upon the body through influencing the growth of the red blood-cells. When taking a sunbath, either in the nude or at the bathing beach, one should always keep in mind the fact that an overdose of these chemical rays is always injurious.

I find that some people suffer from the mistaken belief that if a little sunshine is good, a great deal more will be better. Extreme sunburn is, of course, understood to be very dangerous, as the pores of the skin become so swollen and injured by the burn that proper elimination of poisons from the body cannot take place. A small amount of sunburn likewise affects the body in a proportionate manner. Even the faintest glow on the skin is injurious as long as it lasts. It is therefore much better to measure your sunbath so as to produce an increasing tan each time over several exposures than to try to become tanned through the effects of only one or two sunbourns. The tanning of the skin, or the sunburn, cannot in themselves be beneficial. The only helpful thing about a sunbath is the absorption of the ultra-violet rays by the blood. The skin becomes tanned only because the body is trying to protect itself against too much sunlight to which it has not been accustomed. The darkening of the skin, therefore, acts as a protection against the ultra-violet rays so that the time of each exposure must be increased day by day in order to daily get the same benefit.

One whose skin is well tanned shows he has been taking plenty of sunbaths and consequently has been benefited by the large amount of ultra-violet rays which were needed to produce such a dark color. However, as stated, the darkening of the skin itself is of no benefit, but must be considered a necessary change which takes place.

If you want to stay on the beach a long time, it is a wise thing for you to expose your body for only a short time, keeping it covered with a blanket or robe the rest of the time. Hours can thus be spent at the beach with benefit from the inhalation of the fresh, clean, moist air.

Try, this Summer, to regulate your body's exposure to the sun so that you receive the maximum of benefit and the minimum amount of sunburn.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Question—Miss A. B. Writes: "I am afraid I am getting an ingrown toenail. Will you kindly tell me how to prevent it from getting worse?"

Answer — Any chiropodist can treat your toenail and show you how to make it grow into normal shape. One method of treatment is to shave the nail thin in the centre so the edges will be encouraged to grow toward the centre, making the nail more narrow. Ask your chiropodist to show you how to use this method of treatment.

Question—Mrs. W. A. S. writes: "One of our boys (almost eleven) frequently has pimples on his ears. But the last few days he has a lot of small pimples on the inside of his mouth. I bathe them with boracic solution, but wondered if you could tell me the cause and cure. He is in excellent health. He is very fond of eggnogs and has had one every day for years."

Answer—Such unwholesome mixtures as eggnogs would be just the thing to cause pimples on your boy's skin or even inside his mouth. Raw eggs and milk should never be used together, but may be used cooked in the form of custard.

Question—Chicken Raiser writes: "What are the best types of chickens for table use?"

Answer—The best types are the Brahma, Cochin, Langshan, Dorking, Orpington, Plymouth Rock, Wyandotte, Rhode Island Red and Houdan. Thick scales on the legs, thin necks and dark-colored thighs are signs of toughness in chickens. A good table bird should have a large, full breast and, at other points, also a large proportion of meat to the size of the bone. Chickens should be starved for at least twenty-four hours before killing. Those killed with partially full crops should be avoided, as the disintegration of the grain quickly discolors the flesh. They are more tender if held for two or three days before cooking.

BOUG'S 'ROBIN HOOD' IN VARIETY'S BILL

The vaudeville at the Coliseum Theatre last night proved a great success. "McArtney and Short," the headline for this week's vaudeville made a great hit with their novelty dancing act. Bechtel and Brown and their comedy turn kept the house in an uproar throughout the entire play. The Jewel Sisters, two exceptionally clever dancers, present a character dancing playlet that wins instantaneous approval.

On the screen is the new United Artist release, Douglas Fairbanks in "Robin Hood." When Mr. Fairbanks decided to make this picture he sought the services of some of the most noted savants for research work in order that this production might follow history as closely as possible. Probably never before has motion picture served such an enchanting purpose in "restating the true basic principles of romance" as Douglas Fairbanks in "Robin Hood" so adequately does.

The numbered definitions are of words which when correctly thought out fill the white spaces in the diagram. Each number represents the beginning of a word, reading either across or down to a black square. A black square to the left of the number indicates a horizontal word; above a number, a vertical word. Both vertical and horizontal numbers may begin a word, though inspection of the puzzle will show this is not always the case. The correct words will have one white space for each letter and will interlock accurately and satisfy the definitions. The horizontal and vertical words are different and through the definitions serve to check each other off with cross-clues, from which you can recognize other words. The best method of solving is, first, to fill in, down and across, all the words you are absolutely sure of. Then go over the imperfect words, referring to the definitions. The skeletons of words will often suggest another word, and by degrees—plus persistence and ingenuity — the entire series of words will cross correctly. All the words are found in standard lexicons

Don't Be Skinny and Scrawny

New YEAST and IRON will add pounds of weight—Easy to Take, Quick Results—or pay nothing

If you are skinny as a rail and can hardly drag your tired body through each day, do something to put on good, firm flesh. Start right now taking Ironised Yeast and get pounds of weight where you need it.

How YEAST and IRON Makes Weight and Strength

Ironised Yeast is two tonics in one—weight-building Yeast and strengthening Iron. The yeast is the same used in making malt, and which makes malt so beneficial. It is specially cultured yeast, concentrated to give the utmost in flesh producing value.

This Yeast is treated with pure vegetable iron, the same as in spinach, lettuce and celery. In this form iron is easily assimilated by the body, making rich, red blood and toning up nerves and muscles.

Only when Yeast is Ironised in this way is it more effective—for Iron is needed to bring out the weight-building values of Yeast. By this special formula Ironised Yeast gives you results in half the time required by yeast or iron taken separately.

Miscellaneous Shower

Miss Helen McNaughton, whose marriage to Mr. Hugh Chisholm, of Havana, Cuba, will be an event of this month, was the honor guest at a miscellaneous shower given by Miss Marjorie Watson, Gordon Head, Friday evening. For the occasion the reception rooms were effectively decorated with large baskets of shrimp-pink gladioli and salpiglosis. A number of games were much enjoyed, the winners being Miss Marguerite Ozard and Miss Mary Cullum. In the dining-room, where the buffet supper was served, the decorations were carried out in nasturtiums and violas. In the centre of the table was a representation of the rock fortress at Havana. Graceful miniature palms and butterflies, for happiness, enhanced the novel decoration. The bride-elect turned a key in the lock and the gate of the fortress opened, to reveal the many gifts. During the evening several vocal solos were rendered by Mrs. (Capt.) Harold Robinson and Miss Marjorie Watson. The guests invited were Miss Helen McNaughton, Mrs. P. McNaughton, Miss G. F. PRINCE OF WALES TO ATTEND BALLS

His Royal Highness Will Be Present at Empress and Armories' Dances on Saturday

There appears to be a misunderstanding whether the Prince of Wales will attend the ball at the Empress or the dance at the Armories on Saturday evening, August 20. The Britannia Branch of the Canadian Legion, B.E.S.L., wishes it understood that information has been received to the effect that the Prince will attend both these functions during the evening.

The Prince will be the guest of honor at the ball at the Empress Hotel, but at the same time he has expressed his approval of the dance being staged at the Armories as an overflow one from the Empress Hotel.

It is hoped that this explanation will clear any misunderstanding that has arisen in connection with these dances.

SHIRLEY The Girl Who Leaped Into Life

By NANCY BARR MAVITY

CHAPTER XXVI

Justin leaned out of his window a moment, listening. Then he closed and latched the long wooden shutters, designed to keep out the tropical midday heat, and went quickly down the hall to Shirley's door.

"Come in," she said at once in answer to his knock. "It's all right, I heard it, too. I thought it was no use going to bed. Here, take my hand. I'd better not turn on the light."

She guided him through the heavy darkness of the room, and they knelt together by the window, peering through the slats of the shutters. From the village road where the day before they had strolled behind carts drawn by lumbering water-buffalo and painted with rayed red and blue suns, came an increasing din of gongs and high-pitched, wailing song. Half a dozen shots, astonishing Occidental and civilized in the native uproar, crashed through the music in the distance.

"Not so good," Justin commented. "They're armed. Curse a country, anyway, where the trains run only in the daytime. We ought to be well out of this."

Shirley stared intently into the courtyard. Children had played their pipes of bamboo reeds there yesterday, angling for coins, and women in brown and blue sarongs and tight-fitting kabayas had spread their pieces of batik for sale. Now the courtyard was rapidly filling with dark native forms. They were no longer remote and picturesque, but sinister — and somehow in the transition they became more human. Most of them had drawn the wavy blades of their krises from the tight belts of their sarongs, but two, in the lead, were waving revolvers.

"But it's all so futile!" Shirley exclaimed. "They won't get anywhere with this. The Dutch will be down on them in no time. They haven't a chance."

"Not in the long run," Justin agreed. "But just at this moment they can overwhelm the few white people in this village by sheer numbers. I met the proprietor a while ago—he was trying to put through a telephone call to Djibatoe for the police. Well, the wires are cut. He told me too, that the natives have loosened the rails to keep the trains from running."

"But, they haven't anything against us, particularly. There aren't more than half a dozen of us in this hotel, including the proprietor's wife. And we haven't done anything to them."

"No, they chiefly want to make a demonstration. It's in the air. I doubt if more than two or three of them know what it's about. There's been a good deal of street fighting in the cities, where the rebels have real leaders—I picked that much out of a Dutch newspaper this evening after what you told me. These fellows have wind that something's doing, and they think they might as well take a hand."

Justin felt the clasp of a firm, small hand over his in the darkness.

"You don't have to try to be reassuring," Shirley said. "I know as well as you do that the police will come in the morning and get what they call the 'situation' in hand. They haven't a chance against the whites, poor fellows. But we're not 'the whites'—we're just ourselves. And they can do plenty of damage to us if the've a mind to. But it won't do a bit of good for me to act frightened, even if I am, a little. So I won't" As a matter of fact, Shirley's teeth were chattering, but more from excitement than fear. "By the way, where's the proprietor? It seems as if he might be doing something instead of just letting them mull around like that, getting more worked up every minute."

"When he couldn't get through on the telephone, he slipped out by the rear entrance in a motor, to drive to Djibatoe."

"And let us and his wife and that Dutch couple with their children here without a word? Well, that was clubby of him!" There was note of scornful indignation in Shirley's voice.

"It was the most sensible thing he could do; there wasn't anybody else to go. I say, look there—in the sky!"

Shirley lifted her gaze from the swarm in the courtyard. In the direction of the village, half a mile away, the sky was suffused with a pinkish glow.

"They've set fire to something. If they do that here, we're goners! This whole place is made of wood."

The din below rose in a mounting wave. There were shouts whose meaning neither Justin nor Shirley could understand. Someone threw a rock against the shuttered walls, and in a moment the whole front of the house was under a rattling bombardment.

"If they had any sense, they'd have been in long ago!" Shirley shouted against the noise. "I could do better than that myself." She was not frightened now. The sense of immediate danger gave her an odd feeling of detachment, shot through with exhilaration. And with it came a deep inner calm. Whatever was about to happen, would happen. There was no use protesting the inevitable.

"Did you see that fellow round the corner?" Justin asked in a low voice. "He had a torch. He's gone around to set fire to the rear."

Above and through the hailstorm of rocks and the shouting below there was suddenly audible an insistent, unintermittent blare, growing momently louder. The dense crowd broke and scattered as a motor car careened up the driveway. The man at the wheel drove with one hand, while the other continued to press the button of the horn. The natives jumped out of the way before it, like spray thrown from the prow of a ship.

"Gracious!" Shirley exclaimed. "It's Mr. Poole—in one of the Fords he took away from the Sultan!"

The man below released the horn for a moment and shouted up to them through his cupped hands.

"Cranshaw! Miss Hardin! Make a break for it! Come quick!"

Justin seized her by the arm and they tumbled pell mell down the stairs, banging the door shut behind them. The horn had renewed its clamor, and the natives pressed away from the car in startled groups. Reaching one hand behind him, Poole opened the door of the rear seat, and Justin thrust Shirley in, flinging himself in after her. Before he had time to catch the swinging door they were tearing around the circle of the drive, spewing natives from their unheeding path.

"But the others!" Shirley screamed into Poole's ear above the continuous blast of the ear-splitting horn.

"They'll be all right," Pool answered over his shoulder. "The police are just behind. But I thought we wouldn't wait for 'em. There'll be shooting—I thought it wouldn't be very pleasant for a lady."

The road ahead of them lay dark and deserted, and the horn lapsed into blessed silence.

"We'll drive right through to Bandoeng, if you don't mind," Poole said in a matter of fact voice. "Things are all right there. We might as well make a night of it."

"But how on earth did you happen to be here?" Mr. Poole's sudden appearance to the accompaniment of his terrifying horn blasts seemed to Shirley a bit of astonishing legerdemain on the part of fate.

"I attached those cars from the Kratan at Djocka—you know, the ones I told you about that the old heathen didn't pal for. I got wind of the trouble on the railroads, so I drove one of them as far as Djibitoe, when your hotel man came in. He said you were here, and as it's on the way, I thought I might as well stop by for you."

"Thanks Poole." On the steamer, Justin had rigidly maintained the formality of "Mr." in addressing his fellow passenger. "Can you smoke a cigar while you drive?"

Justin felt Shirley trembled violently on the seat beside him. Was she having a nervous chill in reaction from strain? Was she crying? But as he bent close in the endeavor to see her face, she put her lips to his ear and breathed: "He isn't so bad after all, is he? And remember, you wanted to throw him overboard for being too—friendly!"

W.I. CONFERENCE MAY MEET HERE

Victoria Institute Will Vote on Subject at Next General meeting—Preparing Exhibits

At its next meeting, the Victoria Women's Institute will vote on a resolution favoring the holding of the British Columbia District Conference here in 1928. The matter came up at the regular business meeting of the Institute held on Friday, Mrs. R. Palmer, the president, in the chair.

Miss A. Ravenhill sent for the exhibit, a bag which she had worked. The roll call was responded to by the exchange of recipes, several members giving same. A letter of congratulation to Mrs. Sprague on the success of her son in winning the gold medal in entrance examination will be sent. The secretary's an treasurer's report showed active interest being taken and finances in good shape.

A report on the judging contest recently held and competed for by girls from the rural districts was given. It was decided, in view of the fact that the ladies are busy preparing for the exhibit for the Fall Fair and for the tea room, that no concert would be held at the hospital this month. The next social afternoon will be on September 2. It was decided to get a speaker. If possible, on national events and the pioneers.

Mrs. Palmer reported on the tag day for the Queen Alexandra Solarium to be held on September 10. A large number of letters have been sent to various organizations, replies having been received from some. Mrs. Taylor-Roworth and Mrs. Brown will be in charge of refreshments for the day.

Final arrangements were made for the exhibit. All members who have promised to lend article are asked to let the conveners have them, so that they may be brought in on Thursday afternoon, when the decorations will be made. Homecooking and candy should be brought in on Monday morning.

Conveners for each day of the week for the exhibition and tea room were arranged for, as the exhibit has to be in place by 10 o'clock on Monday. Members are asked to see that their articles or homecooking, etc., are at the Willows early. Should any member not be able to bring her articles in, she is asked to notify one of the conveners in time so that they may be sent for.

Judge—What did you do when you saw the deceased? The officer says you neither slowed down nor turned out.

Defendant—I took all precautions, your honor. I blew my horn and cursed him.—Columbia Jester.

Conservative Picnic, Wednesday, August 17. Tug-of-war contests will start sharp at 2 o'clock. All teams will please be on hand at that time.

Mrs. Mason Hurley, Mrs. Dyson, Mrs. Christison and Mrs. Hamilton were in charge of the jumble stall, and Mrs. Woodruff, Mrs. P. Elford and Mrs. Alexander, of the home-cooking stall. Mrs. Gannon and Miss Molly Hawking presided at a very attractive candy stall, and Walter Elford did quick business with the ice cream and lemonade. Miss I. Clark and Mr. Magill were kept very busy at the spinning-jenny all afternoon. Mrs. Winters, assisted by Miss I. Dick and Miss P. Cunningham, served afternoon tea. Miss Wootton added to the entertainment of all with her music, and also read fortunes from teacups. During the afternoon a bunch of very fine gladioli, grown by Mrs. Furlonge, was raffled and won by Mrs. Finlay. The weight of Mrs. Walbank's large cake kept many guessing, and had finally to be divided among the four winners. The treasurer, Mrs. Wheelton, reported that the sum of ninety-five dollars had been realized.

Senior Golfers to Start Big Tourney At Colwood Today

Over 160 Veterans of the Links Gathered Here for Big Event—Qualifying Rounds Will Keep Members Busy From Early Morning Until Well Into Evening—Draw Announced

Colwood golf links will present a busy scene today, when the Seniors' Northwest Golf Association's tournament gets away with the qualifying rounds over eighteen holes. Veterans from fifty-five and upwards have been headed to the city for several days and will try their luck at taking "Colonel Bogey" over the road for the next four days.

Over 160 entries had been received by Captain J. V. Perks, secretary, when the draw was made, one of the largest entries in the history of the event, and competition promises to be exceedingly keen.

Play today will be confined to eighteen holes of medal play, and match play for the championship of the various flights wil start tomorrow. The first sixteen low scores of the championship flight will play off, and the winning eight will make up the championship flight of all classes with the defeated eight forming the first flight.

The eight best in the "A" class will qualify for the "A" class championship; the first eight in "B" for the "B" class championship, and the eight lowest scores in "C" for the class "C" championship. All others will be formed in flights of eight.

The committee of the Victoria Golf Club has extended playing privileges to members of the Colwood Golf Club during the tournament.

FOLEY GIVEN NINTH BERTH

Vancouver Fighter Placed in First Ten of World's Junior Lightweight Fighters

VANCOUVER, Aug 15.—In a recent issue of The Chicago Referee, rating the junior lightweight boxers of the world, Vic Foley, of Vancouver, was placed ninth by The Referees' experts out of a list of seventy-five boxers of the world, rated in that division.

Following are the ratings of the ten leaders in The Referees' ratings. 300 is the highest number of points possible in this system of rating:

Amongst the sixty odd battlers behind Foley in the ratings are: Babe Herman, Doc Snell, Leo Kid Roy, Bobby Garcia, Bill Grimes, the Australian champ., Stewart McLean, Danny Kramer and Carl Duane

Foley's rating of ninth amongst junior lightweights of the world is all the more notable in view of the fact that he is a legitimate featherweight, never weighing over one hundred and twenty-two or three pounds.

George Moriarty's Experience Is Called Complete

Famous Baseballer, Whose Articles Are to Appear in The Colonist Twice a Week, Has Had Colorful Career

GEORGE MORIARTY'S CAREER

George J. Moriarty is the only man in baseball whose experience can be called complete.

Moriarty started out as a semi-pro ball player. Then in turn he became a minor leaguer, a major leaguer, field captain of a big league team (during the days when a field captain had some standing in the baseball community), a minor league manager, major league umpire and now a major league manager.

He has gained practical knowledge from every angle of competition and therefore he, better than anyone else, is in a position to analyze and judge fairly and intelligently the baseball happenings of the day, week and month. Also it gives him an opportunity to see into the future and forecast with more than an ordinary degree of accuracy.

The late Frank Selee, one of the great managers of the game, discovered Moriarty. It was Selee who built up the Chicago Cubs machine, the team that the late Frank L. Chance took to pennants and world championships after Selee's forced retirement.

One Summer day Selee took his Cubs to Woodstock, Ill., for an exhibition game with the Woodstock semi-professional team. Late in the game the third baseman of the home team made an unassisted triple play with Johnny Evers as the third victim. After the game Selee interviewed the third baseman and offered him a job with the Cubs.

As a result of the interview Moriarty went to the Coast with the Cubs the following Spring, 1904. He trained with them, but after the season opened Selee decided Moriarty was not ready and sent him to Little Rock. After being there a week he was shipped to Toledo and he remained with Toledo the remainder of the 1904 season and in 1905.

PLAYED WITH YANKEES

He was then bought by the New York Americans. Moriarty joined New York in the Spring of 1906, and played with that team until 1909, when he went South with the Detroit Tigers, the Detroit owners having purchased him during the Winter.

Hughie Jennings was manager of Detroit when Moriarty joined. His aggressiveness made him a favorite with Jennings, and the fiery leader elevated Moriarty to field captain and first assistant.

Moriarty played with Detroit seven years, and during that time he was never openly criticized, no matter how badly things broke for him. He was one of the great idols of Detroit baseball. His aggressiveness made him that. He was not a sure fielder, stopping many hard drives with his broad chest, rather than picking the ball clean, but he made up for this flaw in getting balls by his throwing.

There never lived a third baseman who could "rifle" a ball from third to first with the speed Moriarty used. The crowds loved to see him throw. He was one of the poorest hitters in the league and a slow base-runner, but despite his lack of speed afoot, Moriarty was one of the most thrilling base-runners of his time. He won at least a dozen games for Detroit by stealing home in a pinch.

ALWAYS IN THERE TRYING

His success rested in perfect timing and rhythm. This discounted his lack of speed. The fact that he was always trying endeared him to the crowds, and he could strike out two and three times in a game with the bases loaded each time, and still draw no audible censure.

In 1916 he went to the Southern Association, managing the Memphis team. Toward the end of the season Moriarty became seriously ill and was confined to a hospital for weeks. He returned home, and in the Spring of 1917 he made his debut as an umpire in the American League, working as umpire for ten full seasons.

When Frank J. Navin, president of the Detroit Club, told B. B. Johnson, president of the American League, that he would like to have Moriarty's release so Moriarty could succeed Ty Cobb as manager of the Tigers, Mr. Johnson replied:

"You're asking me for one of the best umpires the game has known."

Mr. Navin admitted that it was true. Still, he wanted Moriarty.

"All right," finally consented Mr. Johnson. "I'll release him. You can pay him much more as manager than the league can ever pay him as umpire, and I want to do nothing that will prevent any man from earning all he can."

So Moriarty received his release and joined his old team again, this time as manager.

He had many new ideas that he wanted to put into practice. Most of them were exactly contrary to the ideas drilled into the Tigers for the last five years. The team got away to an extremely bad start, the change in systems of play causing much confusion, but now that the new system is becoming better understood, the team is starting to find itself.

DEVELOPED WINNING SYSTEM

Moriarty has proved his system of play workable, and also has proved it a winning system. He has made Detroit the best double play team in the American League on defence, and the best base-running team on offence. For years the Tigers were either last, or next to last, both in the making of double plays and in base stealing.

Moriarty is a diplomat of the ball field. He is supremely loyal, and in his case, as in others, loyalty begets loyalty.

Moriarty's activities have never been confined to baseball. He has tried his hand at mechanics, playwriting, song writing, verse writing and newspaper reporting. For years he has written baseball articles for newspaper syndicates, and some of the monthly magazines devoted to baseball. He has written several hundred poems, most of them dealing with the game. He tried to write plays, but he never got beyond vaudeville sketches.

He has written a number of songs. Most popular among his musical offerings were "I Can't Miss That Ball Game" and "When the Old Oaken Bucket Was New." Both numbers had wide distribution and sales several years ago. They were popular numbers for vaudeville acts.

Moriarty is the inventor of a number of improvements on typewriters. He was employed during his off seasons by a typewriting manufacturing company in the Middle West, and spent most of his time in the laboratory, bettering the machine. He has been known for years as the poet laureate of baseball.

BIG ENTRY FOR DUNCAN TENNIS

OVER TWO HUNDRED ALREADY ON LIST FOR OPEN TOURNAMENT

Will Occupy Last Four Days of Week—Juniors to Play Later in Month

DUNCAN, Aug. 15.—Up till last evening two hundred entries had been received for the various events in the annual open tournament of the Duncan Lawn Tennis Club, and it is expected that this number will be greatly augmented before the lists close on Monday afternoon.

The tournament will last for four days, ending Saturday next, when the Vancouver Island championships in men's singles and ladies' singles will be decided. Mr. G. Cunningham, of Victoria, is the present holder of the men's title and Miss Hope Leeming in the ladies' event. It is expected that both will be on hand to defend their titles this year.

Entries have been received from Victoria, Vancouver, Nanaimo, Ladysmith, Chemainus, South Cowichan, Salt Spring Island and California, and some first-class tennis should be witnessed during the tournament.

The junior tournament for boys and girls under sixteen years and under fourteen years will be played off on August 25, 26 and 27, and these also carry with them the Island championships in their class. A number of outside entries have already been received in these events.

The ladies' singles championship of the Cowichan-Newcastle Electoral District will be played for on September 2 and 3, for the cup recently presented for competition by Mrs. C. F. Davie.

Second Black Pirate, a four-month-old Scotch terrier, of the Secord Kennels, has been sold to Mary Pickford for a sum amounting to three figures, according to Mr. Hill, local dog fancier and proprietor of the Secord Kennels.

Canadian All-Stars Will Arrive Friday; No Game on Coast

THE Canadian All-Star soccer team, which is en route from the Antipodes, after a successful tour, is due to arrive in Victoria Friday on the R.M.S. Niagara. Suggested games on the Coast have been cancelled, and the players will go directly to their homes. This action was taken after a cable from Jimmie Adam, manager of the team, stating that the boys did not wish to play any games on the Coast.

Defeat U.C.T. in Final To Provide Greatest Surprise of the Year

Two Pitchers From Losers' Camp Parade to Mound in Natives' 16-4 Victory—Holman and Webster Knock Homers

All hopes that the U.C.T. cherished of winning the local baseball pennant were blasted into submission last night by the Sons of Canada when they handed the Sampiemen a 16-4 setback at the Royal Athletic Park before a record breaking crowd. In the early part of the season the U.C.T. were picked as the pennant winners, but towards the latter stages of the schedule they dropped out of the favorites class, due to the unfortunate circumstances which forced Norman Forbes, their first choice chucker, out of the game.

It is doubtful, however, if Forbes could have saved the situation last night, as the Travelers played their worst ball of the season, allowing no less than nine boners to creep into five innings of play. The Natives as a result of their victory will leave tonight for the Mainland, where they will meet the Terminal League champions in the first game of the Provincial play-offs. The second and third games, if necessary, will be played here on Saturday in the form of a double-header at the Royal Athletic Park.

Two chuckers from the U.C.T. camp paraded to the mound in an effort to halt the onslaught of the Canadians, which was started in the first canto. "Doc" Webster, who had been selected by manager Humberstone to do the heavy work, found the going a little heavy, and after he was nicked for four hits, including a homer by Bill Holman, which netted the Canadians four counters, he was yanked in favor of Jim Dangerfield.

FINDS EARLY TROUBLE

Dangerfield bumped into early trouble, commencing his activities by walking Newman and forcing Cummins to second. More singled, to fill the bags. Ray Parfitt, the next man, crashed a two-bagger, scoring Cummins, Newman and More. Parfitt came home on a single by Kim Campbell, bringing the Natives' total to eight runs before the attack was halted.

Sons added four in the second and two in the third and fourth innings for the grand total of sixteen runs before the scoring bee was halted.

U.C.T. scored three in the first and one in the second, the last run being a homer by Webster. Art Minnis, who started at third and was later moved to short, pulled off two fine catches, his second one in particular when he robbed Campbell of a sure hit, was the feature of the game.

Parfitt, who worked on the mound for the winners, heaved good ball and was cool throughout. He was nicked for seven hits, which were fairly well scattered, while he breezed four. Dangerfield, who relieved Webster, was nicked for five hits, three of these in the first frame. His greatest drawback was lack of control, and no less than seven free trips were issued. He struck out four.

Webster, of the U.C.T. and Bacon, of the Sons, led the batters, each hitting 1.000. Webster crashed out a homer, a double and a single out of three trips to the rubber. Bacon hit a double and a single.

DEMPSEY OFF FOR BIG BOUT

Leaves Los Angeles, Accompanied by Wife, for Chicago, to Go Into Training for Fight With Tunney

RICKARD EXPECTS $3,000,000 GATE

JACK DEMPSEY

CHICAGO, Aug. 15.—A new all-time record for prize fight crowds and purses loomed before Tex Rickard and his aides today as they settled down to the big business of getting everything ready for the Tunney-Dempsey fight at Soldiers' Field, September 22.

Rickard no sooner had announced yesterday that his final plans for the fight now indicated a total gate of nearly $3,000,000 with a gross attendance of 160,000, than Jack Dempsey boarded a train from Hollywood for Chicago with his wife and a party of his training camp helpers.

Rickard and Leo Flynn, Dempsey's manager, arrived yesterday to join Billy Gibson, manager for Gene Tunney, and started to set the stage for the heavyweight championship spectacle.

Vernon Cricketers Win

VERNON, B.C., Aug. 15.—Vernon cricketers won the Colonel Victor Spencer Cup in the league with Kelowna, Salmon Arm and Lavington, having won all of the six games played. Two of the victories were won over the week-end. At Salmon Arm on Saturday, the Vernon players dismissed Salmon Arm for 19; scoring 91 for three wickets they declared, and on the lapse of time had seven Salmon Arm players out in the second innings for 22 runs.

This triumph they repeated on Sunday at Lavington. Lavington was retired for 35 and Vernon had 36 runs for two wickets.

John Junor and Partner Winners In Pro-Amateur

SEATTLE, Aug. 15.—John Junor, professional of the Portland Golf Club, and John Rebstock, his amateur partner, took the laurels in the pro-amateur invitational tournament at the Rainier Golf and Country Club here today. Their card for the thirty-six holes was 65-67—132, beating by one stroke the record set last year by Mortie Dutra and Walter Fovargue, representing Gray's Harbor. Junor, with Rudie Wilhelm, took the 1924 titles. Walter Pursey and Ralph Whalen, of Inglewood, finished second with a card of 135.

Third place was taken by two more pairs from the Rose City, who tied with scores of 136. The players were Neil Christian and Russell Smith, of Waverley, with 69 and 67, and Bill Dalgleish and Roy Moe, of Alderwood, with 70 and 66. Mortie Dutra and Chuck Hunter, representing Tacoma, were sixth with 70-69—139.

Good Prices Paid at Fifth Day's Racing

Long Shots Conspicuous by Their Absence, but Second and Third Choices Muffle Up Favorites—Three Pay Double Figures—Kingmaker and Sunbury Repeat

No startling upsets were seen at the fifth day's racing at the Colwood mile track yesterday, but prices on the whole were exceedingly generous. Favorites gave way to second and third choices and those who managed to juggle them around to the top slot were well rewarded. Three of the winners broke into double figures.

Kingmaker came back to repeat his performance of Saturday and win the third event, to pay the first double figures. Carrying a heavy impost, the Johnson entry shouldered his weight well and came along on the rail to stand off a great challenge by Ben Nevis, the place horse, and Yorkshire Maid, the third money winner. The Maid when heading to the home stretch looked like the winner, but she took the overland route and lost much valuable ground. Dolly Day, the favorite, set the early pace, but tired after the first five-eighths. Kingmaker paid $17.70 for a $2 straight ticket.

Bunbury showed once more to advantage in the sixth race, under a fine ride by Jockey McClair. Rated in behind the leaders until the stretch, he moved up when coming to the home drive and won as he pleased. Silver Strand went away out in the lead in the early racing, but tired on the uphill grade, only to come back to beat out Miss Liberty, the favorite for place money. Sam Lorch, who was figured to repeat, failed to show anything.

WINS IN LAST JUMP

Undoubtedly the best race of the day was the fourth, when Tennessee came along in the final jump to nose out Herbert and have her number put up in the first place. Out-run in the early racing, Tennessee was always in close quarters, and although taken up once, showed a great burst of speed in the last eight to win in the last jump. McClair, on Herbert, apparently figured he had the race stowed away when he caught up and outgamed Kinetic and just sat on his mount the last few strides.

Another great race was seen in the closing event when Dusty Dick headed out Singapore to take all. Singapore opened up a wide gap and it looked like a gallop for him, but he tired on the last stretch to let Ethel F. overhaul him and Dusty Dick. By hard riding, Balentine brought Singapore in front of Ethel F. again, but he failed to overcome the Dusty one and could only catch second place. Ethel F. was five lengths in front of Evening Star, the second choice, to take show money.

Patrick Sarsfield was much the best in the second race and came home to win as he pleased. The Davis entry set a fast pace from the three-quarter pole and was easing up coming to the wire. Southern Gentleman was always well up, but could not close the gap of the winner. Judge Hickman was unruly at the barrier, but broke fast and finished third. Miss Fountain, a heavily-backed mare, was always in close quarters and gained ground steadily.

HEATHERVALE WINS

Jockey Frederick gave Heathervale a good ride to take the largest share of the money in the opening event. Taking the rail from the barrier, Frederick kept his mount well in hand and moved up on the stretch to win going away. Jim Rogan set the pace, but faltered in the last few yards to gain second berth. Lady Spain was given a hard ride but was tiring rapidly and only beat Dear Sir to cop the show money.

Daytime showed plenty of daylight between himself and Cordovan to take the fifth race. The winner was well rated throughout and came on to win when ready. Cordovan, the favorite, challenged on the stretch, but failed to halt the leader and took place money. Lawn Mower and Callhan raced like a team until the stretch and fell away gradually, the former getting the show money.

Jockey McClair, rated among the first riders in Canada and among the first ten leaders in the United States, had a leg up on two mounts and showed that he knows how to ride. On Bunbury he rode a perfect race and won easily. Had he not looked to see where Kenetic was in the fourth, he might have had two winners. McClair is a local boy and weighs 105 pounds. He started riding at the Willows track and last year went to Eastern Canada and the United States, bringing home seventy-five winners during the season, a most creditable showing.

Bell once more took the honors among the riders by piloting two home in front. Frederick, Gray, Harris, J. R. Kelly and McClair shared in the other winning mounts. Another large crowd attended.

Burnside Bowlers Win From Duncan

DUNCAN, Aug. 15.—The Burnside Lawn Bowlers defeated the local club here on Saturday in a two-rink match by scores of 20-12 and 21-19. This match was a league fixture in the Victoria District League, and the victory of the Burnsiders makes them serious contenders for the championship in their division.

Pittsburgh to Drop From National Hockey Association

MONTREAL, Aug. 15.—The Montreal Star, in its sports pages today, carried the following:

"The Star has been informed upon good authority that the Pittsburgh Pirates may drop out of the National Hockey League.

"It seems that the support of Pittsburgh professional hockey has not been such as to justify the expense it involves, and a sale of the franchise to some thus far unknown club would not be a surprise."

PRINCE ATTENDS CALGARY RACES

His Attendance at Track Causes Wild Outburst—Crowd Sing "He's a Jolly Good Fellow"

SCANS PROGRAMME AND PICKS WINNER

CALGARY, Aug. 15.—Calgary racing has just had its Royal debut. The cynosure of all eyes, His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales and Prince George, his brother, were the honored guests of Mr. R. James Speers, manager, and officials of the Chinook Jockey Club.

A dapper young man, smiling of countenance, his every expression and manner radiating good fellowship and democracy, was escorted from a motor car to the judges' stand. This was the Prince of Wales.

On his way the Royal party was halted.

Clear and loud came the patriotism-stirring strains of "God Save the King." As one the big crowd stood with bared heads. The two Princes snapped their heels together. Their poise was that of the military. The last note of the stirring tribute reverberated across the racecourse, and then the band played "He's a Jolly Good Fellow."

Instantly the Prince exhibited a keen interest in the thoroughbreds who were parading to the post. He scanned his programme, and with George W. Schilling, presiding judge, he discussed the breeding of the horses about to go to the post. And he dropped the hint that he had a high fancy for the horse Great Northern. His judgment was soon established as correct, for Great Northern was away in front at the rise of the barrier, romping home a winner.

The Prince of Wales, by his presence at the races here and the interest he takes in the breeding of thoroughbreds, has given the sport a big impetus and a much higher standing. He is a patron of the Chinook Jockey Club and gets a close touch with the sport through being the master of an extensive thoroughbred establishment at his E.P. Ranch, sixty-five miles from Calgary.

Will Somers, a noted sire from England, is holding court at the Prince's ranch, and this sire has sent many good runners to the races in Western Canada. With choice mares to serve the fame of Will Somers as a sire producing grand race horses is rapidly spreading. The inexpensive stud fee of only $50 has caused his services to be in great demand and been a vast help to the breeders.

ENDORSES RACING

A strong endorsement of racing was given by the Prince of Wales when he discussed the thrilling sport here.

"Racing is a fine institution for the farmer and breeder. By having it close at hand he has a ready market for the offspring from his nursery."

Two meetings at Winnipeg follow Calgary with a short one of four days, beginning August 20 at Edmonton, in between. The Prince of Wales probably will be in Winnipeg during the racing, and should this be the case it is quite likely that he will be a visitor at Whittier Park or Polo Park, or both courses.

The Whittier Park meeting of seven days will be opened August 27. On the opening day a classic event will be renewed, this being the Whittier Park Handicap, a gallop of 1 1-16 miles. It has $2,500 added money, and is expected to draw a crowd of at least 35,0000 fans.

At the Polo Park meeting, which is to be begun September 5, the renewal of the Polo Park Handicap will be run the third day, September 7. The distance is 1 mile 70 yards. This also has $2,500 added money.

Nominations for these two big features have been unusually heavy and in the list are to be found some of the crack stake and handicap horses from Western Canada, Chicago, Kentucky, Maryland, New York and other sections where thoroughbred racing is thriving. At each of the Winnipeg meetings there will be distributed $38,000 in purses.

It is believed that the attractiveness of the Winnipeg racing will be certain to interest the Prince of Wales sufficiently to attend if his plans will permit.

Cycle Club Will Hold Weekly Handicap Meet

The weekly handicap meet of the Victoria Cycling Club will be held at the Royal Athletic Park tonight, with the first event starting at 7 o'clock sharp. Riders are advised to take advantage of these meets in order to be in condition for the championship meet, which will be held on Labor Day, when three British Columbia titles will be competed for.

CRICKET AT NANAIMO

Local Team Loses to Crack Eleven From Vancouver, Skippered by Minns

NANAIMO, Aug. 15.—Nanaimo cricketers went down to defeat for the first time in several week-end games when they lost to Minns's crack eleven of Vancouver, on Sunday, in a single inning match, by 172 to 87. While the locals lost, they put up a good game. Quainton, of Nanaimo, was top scorer for the home team with twenty-five, while Burns, Hardy and Scurr all reached double figures. For the visitors, Yates topped the score with twenty-six, with Brown, Irving and Leets reaching double figures. In the bowling analysis, Rivers, of Vancouver, secured five wickets for thirteen runs, and Minns took three wickets for eight runs. Quainton, of Nanaimo, took four wickets for thirty-five runs, and Eccles four wickets for forty-four runs. The visiting team included several of Vancouver's best batsmen.

VANCOUVER, Aug. 15.—Percy Williams, Vancouver High School sprinter, will leave for the East tonight to compete in the Canadian track and field championships and Olympic tryout at Toronto on Saturday.

Williams is credited with some fast times in sprint events. He has twice done the century dash in ten seconds flat, and recently set an unofficial world's record of 16 3-5 seconds for a 175-yard sprint.

HAWKINS MAKES TWO POSSIBLES

Eastern Rifle Shot Has Perfect Scores to Win Macdougall Match at Connaught Ranges

LOCAL MARKSMEN IN PRIZE MONEY

CONNAUGHT RANGES, SOUTH MARCH, Ont., Aug. 15.—The Governor-General Footguards, of Ottawa, won the Barlow team prize open to teams of four officers from any unit of His Majesty's forces at the Dominion of Canada Rifle Association meet here today with a score of 260, made up of 129 on the 200-yard range, and 131 at the 500-yard distance. Next in line was the Irish Regiment, Toronto, only one point behind with 259: 126 and 133. Third and last was the Ottawa Highlanders with a total of 235: 116 and 119.

In a shoot-off for the Tyro first three places, Cadet N. L. Beckett, Hamilton Collegiate Cadet Corps, won with a score of 23. Sergeant G. Smith, the Irish Regiment, Toronto, was second, and Colonel Pitt, Manitoba Rifles Association, was third.

Official scoring of the Macdougall match places C.S.M. W. A. Hawkins, Queen's Own Rifles, Toronto, first with a possible score of 70. He thus wins the D.C.R.A. bronze medal and $20. There were nine 69 scores, including Sergeant G. G. McLennan, P.E.I. Highlanders officially placed second, and Sergeant A. F. B. Wilson G.G.F.A., Ottawa, third. Private J. H. Regan, Sixteenth Canadian Scottish, Victoria, scored 69, and Sergent T. MacMillan, Seaforth Highlanders, Vancouver, a 68 to land among the prize winners.

THREE MAKE POSSIBLES

Possibles at the first range of the Bankers' match, ten shots at 200 and 600 yards, were scored by C.S.M. W. A. Hawkins, Toronto, Captain C. Wilson, First Vancouver Regiment, and Sergeant J. Saidler, Nineteenth Alberta Dragoons, Edmonton. The remaining range of this match will be fired tomorrow. Sergeant B. W. Beaumont, 72nd Seaforth Highlanders, Vancouver, scored 49, one less than possible on the first range.

In the Tyro match, the official scoring showed that the Annapolis, N.S., regiment had won with a score of 130, carrying off the Senator Macdonald trophy and $20. Hamilton Collegiate Cadet Corps "B" team finished second with 127, lifting $15 in prize money, while Headquarters Rifle Association, Ottawa, was third, also with 127.

The principal feature of the day was the marvelous shooting of C.S.M. Hawkins, Queen's Own Rifles, Toronto, who not only scored possibles on three ranges in two different matches, but whose sighting shots on these same ranges were also bullseyes. Lieutenant Desmond Burke, G. G. F. G., Ottawa, had a rather bad day in the early stages, but recovered well toward evening and put on a 34 on the first range of the Barlow match, a team competition. This score was the main factor in the final win of the match by the G.G.F.G.

In the Macdougall competition the 72nd Seaforth Highlanders, Vancouver, won five prizes.

Victorians are showing up in the prize list. Major F. Richardson had a 67, C.Q.M.S. D. Fyvie 66; Sergeant H. W. Burton, 66; Cadet Captain E. R. Simonds, 66; C.S.M. W. H. Wood, 66; and Sergeant B. Beaumont, 65.

Lott Beaten In Davis Cup Trials

FOREST HILLS, Aug. 15.—The Davis Cup trials for selection of a fourth member of the U.S. team opened today with something of an upset in the defeat of George M. Lott, of Chicago, recent conqueror of Rene Lacoste, of France, by Francis T. Hunter, New Rochelle, N.Y. The stocky doubles partner of William T. Tilden won in four sets at 3-6, 6-1, 11-9, 6-1.

In a second trial match John Doeg, the eighteen-year-old ace from Santa Monica, California, conquered C. Holman, of San Francisco, 6-4, 7-5, 6-1.

Gunter and Doeg accordingly took the lead in the race for the right to team with Tilden, little Bill Johnson, and Richard N. Williams in defence of the famous cup.

BULAWAYO, S.A., Aug. 15.—Arthur Newton, South African runner, by covering sixty miles in 7 hours 33 minutes and 35 seconds, claims a new amateur record for the distance by a margin of more than forty-nine minutes. Newton's claims for records now include all distances between 30 and 100 miles.

MARKET STOCKS SHOW STRENGTH

DEATH OF JUDGE GARY, CHAIRMAN OF U.S. STEEL, CAUSES BRIEF FLURRY

Upward Swing Follows Last Week's Drastic Reaction—Bond Owners Continue to Hold

NEW YORK, Aug. 15.—Stock prices gave an impressive demonstration of strength in today's market. A strong opening based on a continuation of short covering and investment buying after last week's drastic reaction, was temporarily interrupted by a flurry of selling on the announcement of the death of Chairman Gary, of the United States Steel Corporation, but support was quickly forthcoming and the market headed upward again before noon.

The relatively few offerings were quickly snapped up, and while prices in most instances advanced only a fraction, many issues sold at or above their previous best prices. Among the securities invading new high territory were the new Treasury 3 3-8's, which sold at 100 3-4 for the first time. A strong undertone was displayed by the entire Government list.

About half a dozen high grade railway lines changed hands at new highs for the year and were followed upward by a few of the low priced rails.

High priced industrial specialties led the rally. Case Threshing soared ten points to 255, after having sold down to 224 in the early reaction, and Commercial Solvents "B" jumped eight points to 353. United States Steel opened practically unchanged at 131 1-2. The price dropped to 130 1-8, but the loss was quickly made up and the stock closed at 134 1-2 for a gain of 2 7-8 on the day.

Rails took a prominent part in the upward movement, with buying centering largely in the Northwestern carriers.

Great Northern preferred at 101 touched its highest price since 1921, and Northern Pacific at 97 7-8 was at the best level since 1919.

Call money was again in plentiful supply at 3 3-4 per cent. Time money rates, 3 3-4 per cent. Prime commercial paper rates unchanged.

The bond market continued to reflect the reluctance of owners to part with their holdings, even at high prices, during the easy money period.

"The qualities most to be desired in an investment are that it should
1. Be safe;
2. Be saleable;
3. Be unlikely to fall in value;
4. Be acceptable as security for a banker's loan;
5. Yield a good income."
SIR BRIEN COKAYNE, K.B.E.,
Late Governor of the Bank of England.

Government Bonds, well chosen, and recommended by a financial house of high repute, more nearly fulfil these qualities than any other type of security.

Large Selling Orders Fail to Hold Prices—Exporters and Chicago Houses Buy

WINNIPEG, Aug. 15.—Good buying boosted wheat prices here today. The close was 2⅛ to 2¼ cents higher, October 152¾, December 149¼ and May 153½. The first bulge came at the opening, but it succeeded only in bringing about a wave of selling orders which inflated values. A quick reaction followed when buying orders came into the pit from Chicago houses and on behalf of local exporters.

Spreading operations were on a fairly large scale and affected all months.

Rain was fairly general over the three Prairie Provinces over the week-end and was no doubt very beneficial at many points. There was no feature in coarse or cash prices.

BEN ALI VEIN IS PROMISING BODY

Report Made on Dunwell on Ground Says Nothing Warrants Slump

A report as to the situation at the Dunwell Mine has been issued by Mr. E. P. F. Roe, stock manager of the firm of A. A. Meharey & Co. This report was made on the ground by a representative of the Portland Canal News in answer to a request for such action from the publisher of the paper, Mr. H. W. M. Rolston, who is now in Victoria.

The report is as follows:

"Spent the day at Dunwell Mine. Condition does not warrant present slump, though management was over-optimistic regarding ore reserves. It is expected that the mill will be kept running from the dumps and mine until connections are made with the Ben Ali vein, which is the best yet found on the property. There is great interest locally in the Dunwell situation and the men working on the mine are buying the stock."

Winnipeg Grain Letter

(Supplied by B.C. Bond Corpn., Ltd.)

WINNIPEG, Aug. 15.—Wheat: An unfavorable weather forecast, promising further rains and quite cool temperatures over the Prairies for today and Tuesday, turned what looked like a rather heavy market into a bullish affair and prices advanced fully three cents from the early low mark and held firm. Opening prices were about one cent higher, based on the cables, which were considerably better than due, but this bulge brought out rather free offerings, from longs by the way of taking profits, and the market declined quickly, sinking a half cent under the close of Saturday, when it displayed little stability until the weather forecast was received, when buying orders came in from all directions and bulls again taking hold of the market, while shorts were forced to cover. There was considerably buying coming through wire houses from Chicago. Private messages were also received stating that the damage from frost had been heavier than at first reported, especially south of Regina to the international border. The market was active with fairly large business passing, but offerings were small and came only from longs, there being very little hedging and no short selling. More reports of rust damage were received from North Dakota. Western Canada weather over week-end was decidedly warm in Manitoba with moderate temperatures in Saskatchewan and Alberta, with light to heavy rains in the southern areas of the two latter Provinces. There will be some cutting of early wheat in the West this week, but it will not be general for at least another ten days, as much of the crop is still green, but is filling well. Dry, warm weather is needed to force crops to maturity. Export business was improved over the week-end, with seaboard estimating sales around one million bushels, largely Manitobas. Local cash market very dull, buyers refusing to follow the bulge in the futures. The market is purely a weather affair, with the ripening of the Canadian crop the main feature.

Coarse Grains: Oats and rye were decidedly strong, while barley was just firm. There was a fair demand for oats, with offerings very light, prices being easily forced upward. Some export business reported in rye. There was very little doing in barley. The strength in wheat was reflected in the coarse grains.

Flax: Strong market with a little short covering in evidence. Fear of frost damage the main feature.

Chicago Grain

(Supplied by B.C. Bond Corpn., Ltd.)

CHICAGO, Aug. 15.—Wheat: Early weakness was dispelled by confirmation of the damage done to Saskatchewan by frost a week ago, which in turn was confirmed by a somewhat violent upturn in Winnipeg. Reports as to the damage in Canada vary greatly, but there are enough estimates of thirty to fifty per cent damage to be a deterring element. Furthermore, excessive rains in parts of Kansas, Nebraska and Colorado are not only injuring, locally, the grain, but according to our reports have resulted in real floods, which, where wheat was shocked, are causing material losses, much of this being in the best wheat territory of Kansas. Exporters were after wheat, bidding particularly strong for the nearby positions. Some estimates placed the total sales at 1,000,000 bushels, mostly Canadian. We know of no way of checking up export sales nor of any who is able to do so, but judging from the sales of futures here, we should imagine the above guess conservative as to quantity, but in error in respect to the percentage of Canadian wheat. We continue to feel friendly on the buying side of dips.

Corn: A very irregular corn market prevailed, best prices being made early in the day and not fully maintained. In fact, the rapidity of price changes made it a difficult market to fill orders. Crop reports vary with the vicinity in which the reporter is making his observation. Some claims of a normal development were received here today that a short time ago was thought to promise very poorly. It still seems likely that an abnormally long Summer will be required to mature a moderate crop on the present acreage.

RALPH CONNOR TO TAKE PART

Novelist to Attend Banff Gathering—Covenanters' Hymns and Indian Songs

BANFF, Aug. 15.—An interesting feature of the Banff highland gathering to be held next month will be an open-air service on Sunday morning, September 4, at Sundance Canyon, four miles from Banff, conducted by Ralph Connor (Dr. C. W. Gordon) who was at one time a minister at Banff, and who set the scenes of several of his novels in this country, particularly one entitled "The Sun Dance Patrol." At this service covenanter hymns of the sixteenth century will be sung by the Scottish choir of Calgary, assisted by Mr. Davidson Thomson, Scottish baritone. The musical programme connected with this highland gathering will include two concerts of Scottish music arranged in historical sequence.

For the highland games a race-track is being laid out in the flats adjoining the Banff Springs Hotel, with a grandstand close to the new tennis courts in which the highland dancing events will be conducted. The entries for the highland events are already heavy, as the prizes offered are substantial in addition to the attractive medals of gold, silver and bronze. The presence of pipers from each of the seventeen Highland Regiments in Canada gives assurance that the piping will be of a very high order. A number of the leading highland dancers of the West have entered their names.

A novel feature which had just been arranged with the permission of the Department of Indian Affairs will be a representation of old Indian ceremonial songs and dances such as were heard and seen by the early Scottish explorers of the eighteenth century and early nineteenth centuries. These will be performed by a group of Blood, Peigan and Blackfeet Indians from the neighborhood of Macleod, Alberta. A selected group of singers and dancers from the Stoney Indians will also take part in the cooperation with Juliette Gaultier De La Verendrye, the well-known interpreter of Indian folksong who has been living on the reserve this Summer studying Indian music at first hand.

DUKE ENTERS FRAY OVER PARTY FUNDS

LONDON, Aug. 15.—The Daily Mail and Morning Post, both nominally organs of the Baldwin Government, are continuing the lively political controversy which they began last week over The Post's attack on Lloyd George for having retired from the premiership with a political fund amounting to millions of pounds.

The Duke of Northumberland stepped into the arena today with the assertion that no administration excepting that of Premier Baldwin during the last four years would bear very strict examination concerning the sale of honors. The Duke, however, says the sale of honors during Mr. Lloyd George's premiership was "adopted on a huger, more shameless and more lavish scale than any one dreamed of previously." He says further:

"It is one thing to endow a political party, and another thing to endow an individual, which happened in Mr. Lloyd George's case."

FIRE HOSE WAGON RUNS INTO TRUCK

VANCOUVER, Aug. 15.—Missing several parked cars and a telephone pole by inches by crashing into a large delivery truck, at Pender and Cambie Street, J. E. Shaw, driver of a hose wagon, saved his crew of six men from possible death while answering an alarm here this afternoon. J. W. Munro, driver of the delivery truck, failed to hear the siren of the approaching hose wagon as he approached the street at the intersection of Cambie. He crossed Pender, traveling south, directly in front of the fire truck, the back of his truck being hit and swung completely around. He was thrown out of the side of the truck, lost two teeth and received several cuts and a few bruises on his face. J. Macdonald, fireman, was thrown from the hose wagon and slightly injured.

Sans Ceremony

HAMILTON, Ont., Aug. 15.—That unwedded love is better than unhappy marriage was the opinion expressed by Magistrate Jelfs in police court here Saturday, in reserving judgment of the case of John Javeski and Ida Sajoine, charged with contributing to the delinquency of a juvenile.

"If these two people love each other I would rather leave the children with them, even though they are not married," said the magistrate, adding that love binds them, while, if they were married and unhappy, only the ceremony would serve to keep them together.

Heavy Cargo for Seattle—Mr. Francis X. Bushman, Film Star, Returns

With 210 tons of cargo for discharge here, the American Mail liner President Cleveland docked from the Orient at the Rithet Consolidated piers at 7:30 o'clock yesterday morning.

Twenty passengers disembarked from the liner at this port and 118 bags of mail were put ashore before the Cleveland sailed for Seattle at 10 a.m.

Prominent passengers aboard the liner included:

Alaska Railway May Be Sold To Milwaukee Road

SEWARD, Alaska, Aug. 15.—Presence of E. B. Spaulding, electrical superintendent, and H. B. Erling, western representative of the Milwaukee Railroad, has given rise to reports that their visit here is connected with a possible offer for the purchase of the Alaska Railroad.

The men have been inspecting the Alaskan property and although they declined to discuss the reason for their visit, it was rumored that a sale was pending.

Spaulding said that he was impressed with the great possibilities for hydro-electric power along the line. A remark that "of course the Government would be compelled to grant concessions along the line before private capital could accept the system," made by one of the visitors, was regarded as significant.

The railway executives will arrive on the Vancouver boat this afternoon and will board the 4:30 boat for Seattle.

PATROL BOAT TO BE GIVEN TRIAL

New U.S. Fisheries Vessel Will See Service on Copper River in Alaska

SEATTLE, Aug. 15.—Built for service on the Copper River of Alaska, the new $50,000 patrol boat Teal, of the United States Bureau of Fisheries, arrived in Seattle yesterday from the Kruse & Banks yards in North Bend, Ore., where she was constructed. The vessel was designed by Coolidge & Hanson, Seattle naval architects. She will be in Seattle about two weeks and will be given her official trial voyage and speed tests on the measured mile course on Lake Washington off Sand Point.

The Teal is seventy-eight feet long, seventeen feet beam and of shallow draft. She will go to the plant of the Lake Union Drydock & Machine Works pending her speed tests. The new vessel is equipped with a 150-horsepower six-cylinder, made-in-Seattle Washington-Estep Diesel engine. The Teal has a commander's room, a dining saloon, a galley, a crew mess room and well-equipped pilot house. She has accommodation for eight passengers and a crew of nine men.

Officers Brave Flames to Save Ship's Papers

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 15.—Fire started on the United States destroyer Lamson at the Philadelphia Navy Yard at 1 p.m. yesterday, shortly after the ship had docked with a crew of reservists. The commander and two petty officers were almost overcome with smoke, risking their lives to enter the executive office to save the ship's papers.

During the height of the fire there was danger that the forward powder magazine, stored with powder and shells for target practice, might be exploded because of excessive heat. The steel decks of the destroyer grew so hot that it was almost impossible to stand on them.

The fire was extinguished after two hours of fighting, but the entire ship was full of smoke and could not be entered. The No. 1 fireroom, where the flames were discovered, was deep in water.

PROFESSORS IN CRAWFISH TRADE

REED COLLEGE EXPERTS PREPARE CRUSTACEANS FOR LABORATORY STUDY

Have Monopoly on Shipments of Oregon Product to Eastern Supply Houses

PORTLAND, Ore., Aug. 15.—The recently announced experiments of two Reed College professors on the large and luscious Oregon crawfish have called attention to the probable establishment of a unique industry.

The new industry, which involves the preparation of crawfish for experimental dissection in the school, biological laboratories, was started on a small scale this Summer by two Reed professors, Dr. Lawrence E. Griffin, professor of biology, and his assistant, Milo R. Clare. Together the two professors prepared many thousand crawfish for shipment to Eastern supply houses.

From all indications it appears that the two professors have a monopoly on certain phases, due to a discovery of a process used in preparing the crawfish for dissection which they found after five years of experimentation.

Because the crawfish is of simple construction and easy of dissection and study, the creature has been popular as a laboratory subject. Scrutiny of the crawfish has been somewhat hindered, however, by the white blood of this crustacean, a situation which has necessitated the injection of a colored mass into the veins that the blood system might be traced.

After extended study the professors succeeded in perfecting a yellow injection mass that will penetrate the veins and will become a solid substance, without injury to the crawfish heart, as was formerly the case. This new development, it is believed, will greatly facilitate laboratory study. Naturally, the two professors have not disclosed the composition of the new injection mass, save that it contains yellow ochre for coloring.

Not all the crawfish sold this Summer by the two professors have been subjected to the yellow injection treatment. Several thousand were pickled inside and outside in formalin and sold to the supply houses. The veins of these will be colored in the laboratories.

Oregon crawfish are preferred to Eastern varieties for experimental purposes because of their much larger size.

SULPHUR DEPOSIT SOUGHT IN NORTH

SAN PEDRO, Cal. Aug. 15. — Possibility of opening a new sulphur trade for this harbor was seen with the departure of the Union Sulphur Company's steamship Henry D. Union for Alaska with a group of company officials aboard. They will inspect new sulphur discoveries in Alaska with a view of developing them to provide sulphur for Southern California oil refineries. Sulphur now is brought here from Sabine and Galveston, Texas.

TAIGEN MARU TO SAIL TOMORROW

The Japanese freighter Taigen Maru, which has been loading lumber at the Rithet Consolidated piers for several days, will sail for Nanoose Bay tomorrow night, King Brothers, local agents for the vessel, reported yesterday.

American Mail Liner Will Sail Outbound Today

OUTBOUND for Yokohama and ports in the Orient, the American Mail liner President Grant will dock at the Rithet Consolidated piers from Seattle at 4 o'clock this afternoon. After embarking passengers and mail here, the vessel will put to sea about 6 o'clock this evening.

CHARTER MARKET REPORTED DULL

Few Vessels Booked at Weakened Prices—Decline Shown in Orient Section

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 15.—Conditions in the Pacific Coast freight and charter market were rather quiet during last week. A few vessels were fixed for miscellaneous Pacific voyages at rates, if anything, showing a weakening, particularly in the Oriental section. Even at these reduced figures there is not a great deal of business being done, says the Shipping Register.

Lumber to China is dormant, with no inquiry in the market at the moment.

Lumber to Australia remains about the same, with little inquiry, nor is there any disposition on the part of owners to fix to Australia on rate basis. Charters are, as in the past few months, still depending upon time charter tonnage to take care of their requirements.

Intercoastal lumber is fairly firm at rates in the neighborhood of $14, but charteres are not inclined to pay any premium for tramp tonnage, as they are apparently procuring all the berth space necessary. It is pointed out that when canned goods and general cargo commence to move in the usual seasonal volume, rates will stiffen sofewhat so far as lumber is concerned.

Lumber to the West Indies remains about the same, at rates in the vicinity of $17. It is reported that several million feet of redwood has been sold in Cuba and Porto Rico and that it is being forwarded on the regular lines at rates in the neighborhood of this figure. This is somewhat of a new movement for West Indies ports.

It is understood the lumber is being shipped in competition with Spanish cedar. There is a cargo of fir offering in the market for Cuban ports at $16, at which rate owners show little interest.

Wheat to the Orient is dormant, with no full cargo business being done. Wheat to the United Kingdom is quiet, with rates for new crop loading still ranging between 32s 6d and 35s, depending upon size and position. Several bottoms were fixed during the week at these prices.

The California tanker market is showing a little more activity, and one or two vessels have been taken by Pacific Coast oil companies on time charter, while a tanker or two has been fixed for north of Hatteras at rates in the neighborhood of 85 cents a barrel on dirty oil.

ENVOY DUE ON INBOUND LINER

GENERAL SIR ARTHUR CURRIE RETURNING TO CANADA ABOARD NIAGARA

Alderman Adam and Soccer All-Stars Also Passengers—Will Dock on Friday

General Sir Arthur Currie, heading the Canadian delegation to the recent conference at Honolulu of the Institute of Pacific Relations, will be a passenger aboard the Canadian-Australian liner Niagara when she docks from the Antipodes on Friday.

Most of the Canadian delegates to the conference will be passengers on the liner, it is reported. Some of the Dominion members have returned to this continent via San Francisco, however.

Alderman James Adam, of this city, and the Canadian All-Star soccer team, of which he is manager, are also returning to the Dominion aboard the Niagara, after a triumphant tour of New Zealand cities.

The liner is reported to have a large cargo beneath her hatches on her present voyage northwards.

Marine Notes

The Princess Maquinna brought down a large shipment of fish meal, canned salmon and canned pilchards from West Coast points, and proceeded to Vancouver to discharge.

Routed north to the scenic beauties of the Alaska voyage, the largest party of tourists which the B.C. Coast service expects to carry to Skagway this year is now on board the Princesses Alice and Charlotte, having left Vancouver on Saturday, composed of the delegates to the National Association of Real Estate Boards of the United States and Canada. The Alice left as a special sailing, the overflow of excursionists being taken on the regular sailing of the Charlotte.

The time used is Pacific standard for the 120th Meridian west. It is counted from 0 to 24 hours, from midnight to midnight. The figures for height serve to distinguish high water from low water. Where blanks occur in the tables, the tides rises or falls continuously during two successive tidal periods without turning.

The height is in feet and tenths of a foot, measured from the average level of lower low water.

Equimalt—To find the depth of water on the sill of the drydock at any tide, add 18.6 feet to the height of high water as above given.

INDIAN GIRL HURT IN MOTOR ACCIDENT ON DUNCAN RESERVE

DUNCAN, Aug. 15.—Little Elsie Campbell, aged seven years, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gus Campbell, Indians of the Somenos Band, is in the King's Daughters' Hospital here suffering from injuries received when she was struck by an automobile driven by Mr. Fred Fielden. According to the police report, Mr. Fielden was driving slowly along the Highway leading through the reservation, early last evening. The little Indian girl was playing with other children by the roadside. As the car approached she attempted to cross to the other side of the road, apparently not having seen the car approaching. The brakes were applied, and the car swerved, but she was caught by the mud guard, and her face and jaw were badly injured.

Several accidents have been narrowly averted by motorists traveling the Island Highway through the Indian villages. Although signs have been erected cautioning motorists to proceed slowly, many motorists do not appear to heed these signs.

TURKEY PLANS TWO RAILWAYS

GERMAN GENERAL CONTRACTING COMPANY TO BUILD BOTH ROADS

Lines Will Be Finished Within Three Years—Germans to Lend Capital Needed

WASHINGTON, D.C., Aug. 15.—A German general contracting company has contracted with the Turkish Government for the construction of two new railroad lines, says a report to the Department of Commerce from Assistant Trade Commissioner Lee C. Morse, Berlin. One of the lines will run north and south, connecting the towns of Boghaz-Keui (in the lead-mine region just west of Ala Dagh, in the Negden Province of Southern Anatolia) and Lu-Kishla (on the Bagdad Railway some forty kilometres west of Eregli, which is on the southeast border of Konia Province.)

The second line will run northwest from Kutshia (the present terminus of a spur from the Anatolian Railway in the Province of Kutahia) to the village of Tavshanli, on the way to the rich chrome fields of Chardi. The first line is to be finished within three and one-half years; the second within three years.

The terms of the contract call for the payment of 65,000,000 reichsmarks ($15,500,000) to the company within four years. Part of the amount is to be paid in cash on signing the contract, and the rest in monthly installments. The Turkish Government, it is reported, will finance the undertaking by borrowing the necessary funds from a German banking syndicate headed by the Orient Bank of Berlin. The bankers will receive debenture bonds maturing in eight years and bearing ten per cent interest. On this basis Turkey will pay a total of 81,000,000 reichsmarks ($19,300,000), including principal and interest.

The German Government, in order to improve commercial relations with Turkey, has deposited with the bankers 30,000,000 reichsmarks, equal to almost fifty per cent of the contract price, to serve as a guaranty.
